Phoenix Dam Is Found Unsafe

By PHIL FRADKIN

Phoenix Dam has been found unsafe, and the Marin Municipal Water District has been requested by the state to repair it, it was learned today.

To eliminate the hazard, the water level in Phoenix Lake has been lowered to 25 feet. There will be no fishing there this year.

The request, an alternate to an order, has come from W. A. Brown, supervisor of dam safety for the State Department of Water Resources.

Brown said today the 95-foot high earth-fill dam, built in 1905, "has a margin of safety below present-day standards."

It could give way during an earthquake, or when its 172 million gallon capacity was empited rapidly.

The district, during the last two months, has lowered the normal 70-foot water level to 25 feet to allow the soils engineering firm of Dames and Moore of San Francisco to conduct a survey. This eliminates any hazard, said William R. Seeger, Marin District general manager.

Brown said his office orders water districts to improve the safety of their dams when they show no willingness on their part to undertake the repairs. Willingness has been demonstrated by the Marin Municipal District, so only a request, was made, he said.

Brown said the dam "is very old and built in a time when little was known about earthquake construction of dams." The degree of safety is unknown, he said, but the dam's construction does not match today's requirements.

Seeger said the request from the state was a result of investigations prompted by the Baldwin Hills disaster in Los Angeles last year. However, Brown said studies of Phoenix Dam have been made during the last three or four years.

While the soils survey is not yet completed, Seeger said dirt fill would have to be placed on the downstream side of the dam. He said he has no idea of the cost of the repair work.

Phoenix is the only dam in the water district near a heavily populated area. The dam

CLOSED AS SAFETY MEASURE—Water in Phoenix Lake has been lowered to 25 feet because of discovery that Phoenix Dam (indicated by arrow) may be unsafe in case of earthquake or abrupt release of stored water, it was disclosed today. There will be no fishing in the lake this year. The State Department of Water Resources has called on Marin Municipal Water District to repair the 59-year-old dam.

Johnson Asks U.S.-Business Economy Pact

Says Times Good, Sees No Inherent Mutual Hostility

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Lyndon B. Johnson said today that times are good and there is no inherent hostility between business and government. He pledged to businessmen that the government will act with restraint and responsibility.

In return, Johnson asked for restraint from businessmen in decisions which affect the general economic well-being and responsibility in choosing to support or oppose government policies and proposals which serve all the people.

Johnson faced his largest audience of businessmen, representatives of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, in Constitution Hall. In his prepared address, he said that racial and religious discrimination costs more than 15 billion dollars a year and unused or underused manpower costs even more.

"That is why," he said, "This administration is dedicated to lifting of the burdens which weigh down our national productivity, expansion and prosperity."

The president covered a broad sweep of domestic and foreign policy in generalities.

"As this nation can be reasonable without becoming reckless in relations with other nations," he said, "I believe this government must be more frugal without becoming less compassionate here at home."

And he told the businessmen in a speech that was friendly and laced with bits of humor that:

"Whatever else you have, you have an independent, taxpaying, light-bill-saving president in the White House—one who has faith in America and faith in American enterprise.

"What I know of opportunity and initiative and enterprise, I

MOTIONS DENIED IN CORBETT CASE

Judge Rejects King Dismissal Plea And Separate Trial For Jones

Motions for dismissal of a murder indictment against Robert Lee Jones, 25, and for a separate trial for John Lee King, 28, were denied in Marin Snuperior Court today..

The dismissal request, made by Thomas P. Boyd, court-appointed attorney for Jones, was based on alleged grounds that Jones was indicted without sufficient evidence. Boyd told Judge Richard M. Simms, Jr. the indictment's inclusion of Jones was "without reasonable or probable cause" and based on "incompetent" testimony before Marin County grand jury by then Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety.

Garety's testimony, which quoted King as saying Jones alone murdered Donald G. Corbett, Jr. of Sausalito and King was outside Corbett's apartment in a car, was hearsay, said Boyd.

Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales argued that grand jury testimony by a Federal Bureau of Identification agent that he found Corbett's suitcase in Jones' room in Hawaii during the latter's arrest, and testimony of a friend of Jones placing him in Sausalito at time of the March 27 slaying and later in Corbett's stolen car were sufficient to uphold the indictment.

With denial of the motion, Boyd announced he will file application for a writ of prohibition with the District Court of Appeals in San Francisco to restrain Superior Court from trying the two men jointly.

Boyd also said that after Jones read a transcript Friday on grand jury proceedings in the murder case, he requested that Boyd arrange for him (Jones) to take a voluntary lie detector test.

Boyd said he has not decided if such a test will be taken.

Peter Allen Smith, public defender representing King, made the severance motion—which includes murder of Corbett, two armed robbery charges, a kidnapping, and a burglary—on grounds that the consolidated cases would "clearly prejudice" any jury and make it difficult for a jury to "weigh and segregate" evidence.

Smith said a joint trial would also introduce a "guilty by association" element for his client. He termed the consolidated indictment a "deliberate and calculated" effort by Dist. Atty. Bales to create an "unfair and perhaps even a circus atmosphere" for a trial.

Assessment Increase, Budget Cut Included

By ROBERT M. COPPOCK

Marin County government's tax rate for the 1964-65 fiscal year will be $2.305 per $100 assessed valuation, exactly a nickel above this year's rate, auditor-controller Michael Mitchell predicted today.

The prediction was based on an expected 10 per cent increase in the county's assessed valuation and on slashes in the proposed budget made in the past week by county administrator Alan Bruce.

The cuts brought the budget down to $20,507,426 for next year, including the county library, which is supported by a separate 15-cent tax on only a part of the county. The previous tentative estimate was $20,946,320.

Mitchell blamed the tax increase mainly on welfare. New state and federal programs have raised the local taxpayers' share in the Marin County welfare budget by about $300,000, he noted.

Cuts made in the budget request come in four major areas, according to Bruce. These are salary increases, roads, capital improvements funds, and general operating costs of departments, mainly involving new jobs.

PROPOSED RATE

The tax rate for the capital improvement fund as proposed was cut from 28.9 cents this year to 20.2 cents for next year. Mitchell said the new proposed rate will bring in about $400,000 less than was planned in the program to have the second stage of the civic center completed in 1968.

In all, Mitchell explained, the capital improvements fund will be increased by about $702,000 next year, if Bruce's request is upheld by the board of supervisors. The increase last year was $705,000, according to the budget, but this included about $33,000 for sale of the Coleman School, never done, and $100,000 paid back to the veterans' memorial fund.

On Dec. 18, 1962, Mitchell told the board of supervisors that a 28 cent capital improvements tax rate would allow financing the second stage of the civic center by 1968 on a pay-as-you-go basis, assuming the construction cost was about 7.5 million dollars and the courthouse site could be sold for 1.5 million dollars.

SECOND STAGE

Today Mitchell said cutting the appropriation for capital improvements would mean either deferring construction of the second stage, using some other financing method or

Fight At Restaurant Leads To Loss Of Eye

A partially sighted Vallejo man lashed out with a broken glass and struck a blow that cost a San Rafael man his left eye in a fight at the King Cotton restaurant, 831 Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael, Saturday morning, police disclosed today.

James Ernest Terrell of Vallejo was arrested on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon after the fight at 2:30 a.m. Saturday.

Louis M. Molles Jr., 27, of 11 Roger Drive, who suffered a severe eye cut in the fight, was taken to the University of California Hospital where the eye was removed.

Inspector Richard Camper said the fight started for no apparent reason after Terrell had asked Molles for a match. The two men had not known each other before the fight, he said.

Camper said Terrell picked up a glass, smashed it and hit Molles in the face with the jagged edge.

Terrell was released under $1,100 bail and scheduled to appear in Marin Municipal Court at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow.

There was no explanation why the police report was not available Saturday.

San Francisco Water Bacteria Up Despite Chlorine

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—There's a mysterious increase of bacteria in San Francisco's water supply despite the highest level of chlorination in the city's history. Water Department officials say this doesn't mean the water is dangerous.

But the large chlorine content—more than four or five times as high as normally accepted—gives the water an unpleasant taste.

Officials have been unable to find the source of increasing amounts of bacteria.

Sausalito Takes Visit By King In Stride

King Hussein of Jordan caused little stir in Sausalito yesterday afternoon among the city's usual crowd of tourists and sightseers, Police Sgt. David Cooper reported today.

Hussein, with his all-male party, arrived in a Coast Guard cutter at the Army Engineers pier, then went by motorcade to the Ondine Restaurant where he had a late lunch. After lunch he was taken back to the boat and returned to San Francisco.

Yacht Season Pair Saved From Water

A Sausalito couple took time out from celebrating the start of yacht season yesterday to rescue two San Francisco men whose racing sloop capsized in the chilly waters of Richardson Bay.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Jerrold Hooper of 21 Sunshine Avenue were aboard their 42-foot cabin cruiser, the "Lang Syne," one of many yachts taking part in the festivities, when they passed near the Trident Restaurant at about 4 p.m.

They noticed that diner on the shore were gesturing toward something in the water, Mrs. Hooper said, and soon discovered the two men clinging to their overturned 18-foot sloop.

The men, Raoul Castillo, 28, and Donald Prell, 34, were taken aboard the Hooper's craft, which towed their overturned sloop until a pair of Coast Guard cutters arrived and took the boat to shore.

Grocery Burglar Given Six Months

Kenneth Eugene Morehouse, 27, was sentenced to six months in Marin County jail and placed on three years probation in Marin Superior Court today on his guilty plea in the Feb. 22 burglary of the Inverness Grocery.

Morehouse and Donald Frederick Raymer, 23, both West Marin ranch hands, were accused of taking two air rifles, food and whiskey from the store. Raymer is on three years probation.

False Alarm? No, Baby Born In Driveway

At the hospital, they told her it was a false alarm; but Mrs. Claudia Hicklin knows better.

She gave birth to a son today in the driveway of a Kentfield home.

Mrs. Claudia Hicklin, 20, of 51 Valencia Avenue, San Rafael, went to University of California Medical Center in San Francisco yesterday to have her baby, only to be told that she had false labor pains.

Mrs. Hicklin had the same pains early today—She telephoned her mother-in-law, Mrs. Harry M. Hicklin of 11 Ash Avenue, Kentfield, to pick her up.

The elder Mrs. Hicklin drove her daughter-in-law back to her own Kentfield home so she could dress to take her to the San Francisco Hospital.

Feeling cramped in the parked car while her mother-in-law changed clothes, Claudia got out and stood up, according to Marin Ambulance Driver Richard Besse.

A 6-pound boy arrived at 6:30 a.m., on the driveway. Mother and son were doing fine today at Marin General Hospital. They were to be transferred to the U.C. Medical Center.

Mrs. Hicklin is the wife of H. Merle Hicklin, unemployed. The baby is their first child.

Sanity Trial Apparently Is Due Ruby

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Condemned killer Jack Ruby seems assured of a new jury trial to determine whether he is now sane or insane.

This development came during a hearing today on a defense request asking for immediate hospitalization of the slayer of accused presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald. Judge Joe B. Brown denied the motion. (See also story page 2).

Ruby's sister, Eva Grant of Dallas, formally asked Judge Brown to empanel a jury and go into the question solely on whether Ruby now is insane, as she contends.

Provided Mrs. Grant's petition is properly drawn, legal sources said, Judge Brown has no cohice under state law but to order such a trial.

If a jury finds Ruby sane, his death sentence for killing Oswald stands. If a jury decides he is insane, he must be committed to a state hospital.

Sino-Russ Feud Flares Despite Romania Plea

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet Union and Communist China ignoring Romania's appeal for an end to public arguments, today attacked each other anew in their party newspapers.

Romania, which last month tried to mediate the Soviet-Chinese ideological dispute by sending a mission to Peking, told both quarreling parties yesterday that their differences "should be analyzed in a comradely way."

But at the same time, Romania's increasingly independent Communist leadership made a moderate anti-Moscow statement of its own.

The Romanian newspaper Scinteia, reporting on a party conference held April 15 to discuss the split, criticized Soviet attempts to manage the Romanian economy as "not in keeping with the principles of the relations between socialist countries."

("Besides his greater vulgarity, his contribution consists of such gestures as pounding the table, stamping his feet, brandishing his fists, and grinding his teeth," the broadcasts said.

(Peking printed Soviet theoretician Mikhail Suslov's denunciation of Chinese policies, branding it "lies and nothing but lies," then dared the Soviets to print the latest Chinese attacks.

(It compared the Soviet leaders to reactionaries and landlords, accused them of domestic mistakes that "brought hardship enough to the great Soviet people," and said that since Soviet aid was cut off, "our economy has taken an all-around turn for the better.")

Bishop Ends Alabama School Bias; Whites Bolt La. Meet

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Roman Catholics in Alabama today greeted with quiet acceptance the news that all Catholic schools in the state would be desegregated next September.

Archbishop Thomas J. Toolen yesterday signaled the most sweeping integration yet of Alabama schools by announcing the plan which would affect approximately 25,000 students.

Alabama currently has only a handful of Negroes attending integrated classes.

The order, which also affects 11 North Florida counties in the diocese, was contained in a pastoral letter read to each congregation yesterday at services.

Another southern racial customs yesterday sparked a walkout of the New York delegation to the Adjutants General Assn. convention in New Orleans.

A Negro member of the New York Delegation, Col. Otho Van Exel, was refused hotel accomodations at the all-white facility where his associates were registered. The delegation acting on orders of New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, pulled out of convention because of the discrimination.

Other racial developments:

New York — NAACP executive secretary Roy Wilkins charged yesterday that the U.S. Senate was engaged in an irresponsible "stall-in" on the civil rights bill. Wilkins made his comments in a televised interview.

New York — Integration leaders warned that civil rights demonstrations would be staged at construction sites in New York City to protest alleged job discrimination. They also disclosed plans to hold a large demonstration May 4 outside the General Motors headquarters in Detroit to protest alleged discrimination in hiring practices of the huge firm.

Greenville, Miss. — William C. Kerrill and Eddie L. Jeter face disturbing the peace charges in Greenville City Court today for allegedly burning a cross during the weekend.

Miami Beach — The 40,000-member Florida Education Assn. decided during its convention in Miami Beach this weekend to admit Negroes to its membership.

Chester, Pa — Gov. William W. Scranton flew to Philadelphia yesterday for a series of meetings to end bitter civil rights demonstrations in this nearby suburb but a Negro leader said the demonstrating against de facto segregation in schools would continue today. Six policemen and 20 demonstrators were injured in a melee here Friday night.

Coup No. 2 Man Controls Laos Capital

VIENTIANE, Laos (UPI)—Gen. Siho Lanphouthakoul, the Laotian security chief and No. 2 man in the last week's right-wing coup, today appeared to be in control of the capital and government.

A rift appeared to be forming among the right-wing Junta leaders with major problems of the new government still unsolved. Neutralist Premier Souvanna Phouma, deposed last Sunday and later reinstated by the generals, remains under house arrest.

Souvanna agreed to form a new cabinet, giving the right-wing faction greater power than his neutralists and the pro-Communist Pathet Lao. The pro-Communists refused to recognize the Junta and said they would not cooperate in the cabinet changes.

Reliable sources said it was Siho who insisted that the military remain in control of the government until Souvanna makes the changes in the cabinet. They said Siho has played more and more of a lone role since the coup was staged.

The leader of the coup, Gen. Kouprasith Abhay, is considered more moderate than Siho. But because of the funeral of his father, former Premier Khou Abhay, Kouprasith has not played an active part in the Junta since the weekend.

Other generals have left the capital for their district military commands and Siho has taken control of the city with his black bereted security guards.

Russ Battle To Save Flood-Threatened Area

MOSCOW (UPI) — Soviet engineers fought a "battle with nature" today to save the fabled ancient city of Samarkand from a flood threatened by waters rising 15 inches an hour.

Millions of tons of water strained a dam in the Zeravshan River caused by a massive landslide in the Central Asian Region. Collapse of the dam would send the water down the valley across the rich cotton and grape region where 500,000 people live.

At least 50,000 persons were removed from villages.

Moscow radio said last night that Soviet engineers rushed to the danger area planned to use high explosives to break up the huge mound of earth and rocks, and to deepen the river bed.

An army of bulldozers and excavators ate through the earth in an effort to force a new channel around the dam to permit the waters to escape, thus easing the pressure.

The danger zone, about 1,700 miles southeast of Moscow, is in the mountainous region of the Soviet Republic of Tadzhikistan near the Afghan, Kashmir and Chinese borders. The Zeravshan River is an important east-west waterway between the Turkestan and the Zeravshan Mountains.

Samarkand lies down the valley in the Republic of Uzbekistan. The legendary city is 25 centuries old, and today has about 200,000 population. Once the capital of Genghis Kahn, its ruins and mosques have made it a prime tourist attraction.

A large portion of Mount Darivorz, about 90 miles from Samarkand, broke off last Friday and sent 13 million cubic yards of earth and rock crashing into the Zeravshan River.

The mountain-slide, caused by two months of heavy rain, forced the river to back up and form a new lake.

Senate Begins 41st Day On Rights Bill

Humphrey Hopes For Vote This Week —Russell Doubtful

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate headed into its eighth week of debate on the House-passed civil rights bill today, with leaders hoping that the first vote might be in the offing.

Senate Democratic whip Hubert H. Humphrey (Minn.), said he hoped to get a vote this week on a jury trial amendment worked out by Democratic leader Mike Mansfield (Mont.), and Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen, (Ill.).

The senate was called into session at 10 a.m. EDT to start th 41st day of debate on the measure to outlaw discrimination in voting, education, employment, unions, public accommodations and use of federal funds.

No amendments have been considered yet.

HOPES FOR VOTE

Mansfield hoped for a vote on the amendment by midweek. But Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.), strategy chief for the bill's opponents, said in a weekend interview he thought a vote this week was "highly unlikely."

Humphrey said in a television interview yesterday that he believed southern opposition to the measure was weakening as the southerners "realize the American public wants this bill."

DEMONSTRATIONS

Other developments:

Sen. Hugh Scott (R-Pa.), and Frank Lausche (D-Ohio), said that demonstrations involving threats and violence were not helping the bill. Scott said he thought the measure was being endangered by such tactics.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-N.Y.), said experiences at the New York World's Fair showed that "serious racial difficulties" could be avoided in areas which were trying to do all they could to solve the civil rights problem.

Sen. Clifford P. Case, (R-N.J.), predicted that the civil rights bill would be passed by the end of June. He said he believed the House would accept the final Senate version unless it had been weakened by amendments to a point where the bill was "a farce."

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Johnson To Say In Open

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Lyndon B. Johnson says he is not unduly concerned about his safety and he is going to continue to meet and speak with the American people in public.

"I am exercising all the precautions that prudent men, responsible for my safety, recommend," Johnson told his news conference Saturday. "But the president is still going to speak to the people of this country and necessarily is going to associate with them."

"My intentions are to see the people, to talk to them," the president said. "I will be on open platforms. I will be on an open stage. I will be at an open desk. I will be in an open car on occasions, depending on the circumstances."

Suspected Slayer Tells Details

NEW YORK (AP) — Deputy Police Commissioner Walter Arm says George Whitmore Jr., 19, alleged slayer of career girls Janice Wylie and Emily Hoffert, has divulged details of the crime known only to police and the slayer.

"He had information that has never been revealed publicly," Arm said yesterday.

Whitmore, a jobless Negro laborer who dropped out of school after the eighth grade, was booked by police on homicide charges Saturday in the stabbing last Aug. 28 of Miss Wylie, 21, and Miss Hoffert, 23, both white.

He recanted an oral confession police said he had made.

Whitemore's court-appointed attorney claimed the youth made statements under duress and stress.

Lynda Bird Breaks Engagement

WASHINGTON (AP)—The engagement of President Lyndon B. Johnson's 20-year-old daughter, Lynda Bird, to a young naval officer has been broken by mutual agreement.

The White House confirmed Saturday that Lynda had returned her diamond engagement ring to Lt. (j.g.) Bernard Rosenbach about a week earlier. Lt. Rosenbach, a 1963 graduate of the U.S. Naval Academy, is from Comfort, Tex.

In Mayport, Fla., where he is assigned to the destroyer Jonas B. Ingram, Rosenbach would not give a reason for the breakup, but said it was not because of another boy or girl.

Ruby May Seek More Mental Tests

Ruby, awaiting death in the electric chair for the murder of accused presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald, was not seriously hurt in the incident early yesterday morning.

He was expected to appear in court to argue that mental tests given him before the trial did not go deep enough.

Little Leaguers Toss Tonight

Attention, San Anselmo! . . . It's "play ball" tonight at the Little League Ball Park, and VERLE SORGEN and JOE BEHM are at the microphone to give you a play by play account . . . One of the very happiest seasons in the year at KTIMarin is LITTLE LEAGUE SEASON . . . Win, lose or draw, Little League is the MOST fun . . . (KTIM-FM listeners will continue to enjoy the dinner music from 6 to 9 p.m. every night as usual) . . .

MAY IN MARIN will soon get off to a flying start—and among other things it will mean limericks every week over KTIMarin for prizes . . . We just found out that a four-line verse is NOT a limerick! In fact, we went to considerable trouble before we learned how they're written . . . HAZEL BROWN was willing to try, and at the suggestion of Hugh Turner turned out several cute four-line rhymes. Then Verne Sulier or somebody said NO—a limerick has to have FIVE lines—so we had to discard Hazel's jingles and start all over . . . We've now dreamed up some good five-liners—but the idea is for the listeners to complete the fifth line in their entries to KTIMarin . . .

ATTENTION, SPORTS CAR BUFFS! . . . JERRY SMITH, of our KTIM news staff, is planning a weekly sports car program that should be great. Jerry is a pro on sports and imports in the world of racing and will bring to KTIMarin listeners a resume of weekend Marin County successes . . .

SPEAKING of new programs—the KTIM-FM College of Marin series on Monday nights is worth staying home for. Direct from Harlan Hall—with audience participation . . . Tonight from 8 to 9 p.m. "Is the Written Word Obsolete?" is the topic. A panel of experts will discuss the merits of the spoken word as opposed to the printed word . . . This should open up an opportunity for some interesting opinions.

LODGE STILL TOPS OREGON VOTE SCENE

Preference Of 40 Per Cent Of Republicans; Rockefeller Steadily Is Closing The Gap

By ADVANCE NEWS SERVICE

PORTLAND, Ore. — Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge remains firmly in control of Oregon's presidential primary race, while his republican rivals fight it out on a political plane far below him.

At present, Lodge is the preference of 40 per cent of Oregon GOP voters, the exact position he held in an earlier poll of the state.

The major move in the race has been made by New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, who has steadily increased his support to open a gap between himself and the other chief contenders, former Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona.

Following is the question asked of representative Republicans across the state: (Results are compared with a similar study completed earlier in the month. Both polls were conducted exclusively for the Portland Oregonian by an independent and impartial research organization.)

"If the election were being held today, which one of the following candidates would you probably vote for?"

First Choice	Late April	Early April
Lodge	40%	40%
Rockefeller	21	18
Nixon	15	17
Goldwater	12	14
Scranton	1	3
Mrs. Smith	1	1
Undecided	7	7

While Rockefeller has a long climb to overtake Lodge, indications are that the Governor's continued campaigning in Oregon is paying vote dividends.

For example, an unpublished poll conducted by the same pollsters, Clark, Bardsley and Haslacher, before the campaign began showed Rockefeller lagging behand both Nixon and Goldwater. Now, the situation has reversed.

Support for Goldwater, in particular, has dwindled during the past month—a month in which he has canceled two campaign appearances in Oregon.

Should Lodge maintain his present margin, he will surpass his write-in victory of 36 per cent in New Hampshire. Should Lodge lose any of his support, chances are that a great deal of it will go to Nixon, with Rockefeller a secondary beneficiary. This is shown in the second choice presidential preference of present Lodge backers.

Second Choice	(Lodge Supporters):
Nixon	35%
Rockefeller	21
Goldwater	13
Scranton	12
Mrs. Smith	6
Undecided	13

Nixon is not only the second choice of Lodge supporters, but also of Oregon GOP voters as a whole. As the following figures reflect, Nixon has strengthened his second choice position, placing him in a strategic spot as a compromise candidate, as far as Oregon Republicans are concerned.

Second Choice (All Voters):	Late April	Early April
Nixon	24%	20%
Rockefeller	15	15
Goldwater	11	10
Scranton	7	9
Mrs. Smith	5	4
Undecided	17	17

San Quentin Inmate 'Fair' After Stabbing; Few Clues

San Quentin Prison officials still had few clues today in their efforts to learn who stabbed inmate Louis Gonzales, 29, in the back with a chisel-like weapon Saturday.

Gonzales was reported in fair condition, but in no danger today at the prison hospital, where he turned himself in a few minutes after being struck in the lower right side of his back.

The stabbing occurred in the prison yard at 3:25 p.m., according to Elmer L. Howell, correctional industries manager, as prisoners were being taken back to cellblocks for counting.

Gonzales, who removed the chisel from his back, turned it in at the hospital, but would not identify his assailant.

The weapon was 10 inches long, Howell said, had a sharp point, and was taped for three and one-half inches at one end.

Gonzales was first sent to San Quentin in 1956 from Santa Clara County on a conviction for selling narcotics. He was paroled in 1961, but was returned in May, 1962, for parole violation.

ELECTRIC BIG BROTHER EYES TRAFFIC ILLS

BERKELEY (UPI) — A high-speed computer at the University of California may cure many of the nation's motoring headaches.

Reasearch transportation engineer James H. Kell said he was conducting a study of traffic movements by feeding traffic patterns into the 7090 computer.

He said the study has already shown that longer signal cycles . . . a complete rotation through red, green and yellow . . . would keep traffic moving faster during peak rush hours. On the other hand, Kell said, shorter cycles would be best when traffic is light.

MUSICAL STIRS DISCORD—Kristi Honson, 16, rehearses as Lola in a high school production of "Damn Yankees" in Ionia, Mich., today. Seated on the knee of her leading man, Mitchell Skelding, she wears the brief black outfit with split skirt that she uses for a dance among the audience. (TP Wirephoto)

'DAMN YANKEE' UPROAR

Church Ousts 2 In Row Over Girl's Dance Rig

IONIA, Mich. (UPI)—The chain reaction of controversy set off by a high school girl's portrayal of Lola, the sultry devil's helper in "Damn Yankees," continues to stir the Ionia citizenry.

The Rev. Raymond Bierlein, rector of the Ionia Episcopal Church, announced yesterday he had excommunicated two of his parishioners, Robert Clore, a local businessman, and his wife Jean.

The Clores had publicly disagreed with Father Bierlein's attack last weekend on an Ionia High School production of the Broadway hit, "Damn Yankees."

Bierlein and Rev. Wilfrid Sawyer, pastor of the Ionia Presbyterian Church, had led the opposition to a leggy dance done by the play's Lola, 16-year-old Kristi Honson, a junior at the high school.

Bierlein had charged that her performance at the first two shows "was an inexcusable act of arrogance and effontry and on the part of the director . . . I don't want any children taught to dance like that for any excuse whatever." He assailed Kristi's gyrations as "salacious and immoral."

Other objections were raised to the girl's costume consisting of shorts under a short split skirt and a cocktail dress top.

The school board indicated later it was not greatly disturbed by the controversy but the criticism brought a flood of letters from local residents, most of them defending the student performers.

"We know we speak for a great many of our congregation when we say we are not in accord with Father Bierlein's archaic beliefs and moral knowledge," the Clores wrote.

Bierlein explained that the excommunication was taken because the Clores had publicly denounced their church and claimed to speak for the congregation.

Hub To Seek Boulevard Bids

Bids on widening of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard to four lanes, with parking on both sides of the street from the Hub to Tunstead Avenue, will be opened by the San Anselmo City Council at 8 p.m. tomorrow.

The project which is expected to begin in June and be completed by December, will include landscaped concrete traffic islands with left turn lanes at intersections.

The council will review the 1964-65 proposed budget for the fire department and will consider appointments to the planning commission and board of review and the Air Pollution Board.

Several requests will be discussed, including a proposal for spraying elms within the city.

Changing Cars Didn't Help Her

A Belvedere woman failed to quit while she was more-or-less ahead Friday night, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The patrol said Mrs. Marian Reid Cullen, 49, of Tara Road, struck a tree with her 1964 convertible on Tiburon Boulevard at Reed Ranch Road.

When a patrolman arrived to investigate, however, Mrs. Cullen was not there. Moments later, she returned in the family's other car.

In the second car, the patrol said, she came close to jumping a curb and striking the patrolman. As a result, she was booked for drunkenness.

Mrs. Cullen is scheduled to appear in court at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Midnight Is Deadline For Queen Entries

Midnight tonight is the deadline for entries in the contest for queen of May in Marin, Mrs. Esther Dearth, contest chairman, said today.

Fully completed applications must be sent to Mrs. Dearth at Northwestern Savings and Loan Assn. in San Rafael by the chambers of commerce entering contestants, she said.

Novato Man Hurt In Car Collision

A Novato man suffered minor injuries at 7 p.m. Friday when his car was struck by one driven by a San Francisco woman on Highway 101 near the Terra Linda overpass.

The woman, Mrs. Beverly A. Martino, 34, was cited for crossing the highway's divider strip.

Charles L. Moore, 26, of 8 Villa Maria, Novato, told the California Highway Patrol he would go to his own physician for treatment.

Mrs. Martino told the patrol she was travelling north, slowed for traffic and the car suddenly spun across the highway, striking Moore's southbound station wagon.

Nursery School Open House Due

The Terra Linda Cooperative Nursery School will hold its annual open house 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. Wednesday at the Terra Linda Community Center.

Mothers with pre-school children have been invited to the event, and the small guests may paint, play and do handcrafts at the school. Cooperative officers and the morning director, Mrs. Ann Hatch, will greet the visitors.

Children who would ordinarily be at the nursery that morning will instead be taken to the Pixie playground in Ross. The afternoon session has been cancelled.

Second Woman Leaps Off Richmond Span

A Berkeley woman today became the second person known to have taken their life by jumping from the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge.

The body of Mrs. Angelica Schuyler Goffman, 35, was recovered at 9:50 a.m., about 45 minutes after she jumped, in the secondary navigation channel near Red Rock Island.

Bridge officials were alerted after a painter, Clyde Camright of San Leandro, spotted her car on the upper deck about a mile west of the toll station at the Richmond end. Investigating, Camright found a note with her husband's name on it inside the car.

A note to her attorney was later found in her purse.

Two bridge electricians took a small boat into the channel and recovered the body close to the point where Mrs. Goffman apparently hit the water.

The body was taken to Kaiser Hospital in Richmond, where she was pronounced dead by Contra Costa Deputy Coroner Walter Kohler.

Bridge manager Will Behrens said records show the only previous fatal leap from the bridge occurred last November.

PHOENIX

above Ross used for holding surplus water. Seeger said the lake's capacity could be used up in two days by water users in the district.

Last December, Seeger said, state inspectors went over the six dams in the district and given them all "a clean bill of health."

Lagunitas, built in 1872, is the oldest dam in the district. "We have no problems there," Seeger said.

He termed the safety of Phoenix Dam is a "borderline case. we assumed that sometime we would have to do some strengthening."

There will be no fishing in the lake this season, and there is a chance that fishing will not be allowed in lake next season if repairs are not completed this summer and fall, Seeger said.

The area will be closed off because the low water has produced steep and slippery mud banks and deep gullies at both ends of the lake into which fisherman could fall, Seeger said.

JOHNSON

learned from life itself. I pledge you from your government restraint and responsibility—a hand that means only to help and never to hinder so long as the public interest is being served. I ask from you only the same — restraint in those decisions you make which affect the general economic well-being, responsibility in choosing to support or not support the policies and proposals of your government which serves all the people."

Johnson said he believes America can work to bring peace to the world but he believes it also must work to "bring peace to the lives of all our own people."

To this apparent allusion to racial strife, the president added:

"This is the work of our generation—yours and mine.

"So, I must get back to your work at the White House and leave you to go back to work on me."

Johnson noted at the outset that the long rail dispute was settled last week, that national production reached 608.5 billion dollars in the first quarter of the year, that the largest tax cut in history is now in effect. Then he apologized for not having done anything for business this week. But he said it is only Monday morning.

East-West trade is the main item on the agenda for the chamber's 52nd annual meeting, but Johnson concentrated on other items in his speech.

Enrollment Report Due In Novato

Novato Unified School District trustees will hear estimates of next fall's enrollment when they meet at 8 p.m. today in the administration building.

The board will decide the additional staff needed to meet the growth.

The trustees will consider authorizing the county counsel to go to court in a dispute over $9,000 in the price for seven lots on the high school site. They will also consider salaries of non-teaching personnel.

Mrs. Schultz To Introduce Panel

"The American Crisis — a Vicious Trilogy," an Issues Forum, will be presented by the Tiburon Peninsula Democratic Club on May 5 at 8 p.m. in the Reed School Auditorium.

Vera Schultz, former Marin County supervisor and Democratic candidate for State Senate from Marin, will introduce the three speakers, after a short film, "The Color of Man."

Speakers and their subjects will be: Rev. Robert McNair, human rights, "The Negro Myth"; Isadore Pivnick, education, "High School is Too Late!"; and Louis Fein, employment, "Full Employment—An Obsolete Objective."

BUDGET

building a strucure for less than the predicted 7.5 million dollars.

Bruce commented that he has always felt the capital improvements budget was "flexible" and could be changed when major changes were required in other parts of the budget, as has happened this year in welfare.

He noted that a substantial amount of money would still be going this year into the civic center construction fund, and said this fund had been cut only after "no more blood could be squeezed out elsewhere."

In other areas of the budget, the $250,000 which had been set aside for salary increases next year has been reduced to $175,000. The reserve for contingencies has been held at $350,000, which is $50,000 higher than this year. This reserve fund was completely depleted this year and the county had to borrow from the capital improvements fund to get through the year.

The road fund has been cut to make the tax rate for roads 6.9 cents next year, compared to 12 this year. However, no specific project was cut. Instead, the estimate of the cost of maintenance per mile of road in June that the revised estimate is too low, and that individual road projects will have to be cut instead.

The changes in general operation reduced the total budget by about $200,000, Mitchell estimated. In some cases, new positions that were to be filled by Oct. 1 were pushed back to Jan. 1. In other cases, new jobs were cut out entirely. Bruce slashed costs in his own department this way, and Mitchell agreed to deferments in his department to keep the budget down.

The property tax cost for the county fair was cut from 1.9 cents to 0.2 of one cent, but this decrease merely reflected the increase last year to pay for construction of a road to the fairgrounds from the Terra Linda interchange on Highway 101.

One new tax rate included in the total is .3 of one cent special aviation fund for improvement at the county airport, Novato. This small tax would raise the approximately $10,000 supervisor William A. Gnoss said he would request for work at the airport next year.

Loma Verde Master Plan On Agenda

The Novato planning commission will consider changes in the Loma Verde master plan when it meets at 8 p.m. today inthe community house.

This proposal is to change 65 acres from multiple family to single family; four acres from single family to multiple family and make changes in the street pattern.

The commission will also consider the tentative map of Marin Oaks for 122 lots on 40 acres, south of Raphael Village and north of Marin Golf and County club unit 1, requested by the Marin Oaks Development Co.

Roberts and Aguirre, Inc. seeks rezoning from limited agricultural to planned residential for 21 acres at Sutro Avenue and Center Road, just south of Pleasant Valley unit 3.

Williom H. Benno plans a five-unit apartment house on Reichert Avenue south of De Long Avenue. Joseph Laufer seeks to split a lot at 1464 Pastel Lane and James Jordan asks for a lot split at Reichert and Hayden Avenues.

Charge Of Theft Dismissed In Case Of Missing Gold

A felony grand theft complaint against Donna Deane Hedge, 24-year-old San Rafael electronics employee, has been dismissed on recommendation of the Marin County district attorney's office.

Miss Hedge, of 826 Fifth Avenue, was accused of taking $500 worth of gold-contact points used in manufacture of diodes by Fairchild Semiconductor at 4300 Redwood Highway.

She was represented by public defender's office. Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales said his recommendation was based on the conviction that Miss Hedge had not intended stealing the contact points.

REVOLT INTO CONFORMITY?

Humor, Grim Facts Laid Before 100 On Smoking

By ALAN CUNNINGHAM

Once upon a time, youngsters who smoked did so in rebellion.

Has their smoking now gone from being an act of revolt to one of conformity?

This question was one of many raised at an all-day conference on the "community problem" of smoking, held at College of Marin Saturday by the Marin Interagency Committee on Smoking and Health.

Nearly 100 men, women and youngsters attended all or part of the session. It sandwiched speakers, discussion groups and showings of a highly entertaining but also somewhat frightening film recently made by the Marin Medical Society to counteract the effect of seductive cigarette commercials on today's young people.

The Keynote speech, "How To Become a Non-Smoker," by Dr. Edward K. Williams of the Stanford University medical school faculty, was well received. It combined humor with a frank use of the fearful medical facts which link smoking to lung cancer.

Later, a panel of five students from the college and Marin high schools discussed how they feel about smoking. Among other points, they stressed that the habits formed by youngsters in such areas are largely shaped by the customs of the adult world which they are striving to enter.

Afternoon workshops brought three groups together. One was made up of teachers and other school personnel. The second was made up of students, and the third brought together members of the clergy, physicians, and sponsors of youth agencies.

In the third workshop, discussion revolved on the responsibilities of each group to help others stop smoking. Inevitably, debate arose on whether the problem is medical, moral, or both.

Participants wondered aloud a few times whether such sessions do not primarily attract only "the believers"—that is, those who already are convinced it is a mistake to smoke, while "the heathen" stay home with their ashtrays.

Perhaps significantly, there was no smoking at the conference. However, this may have been due to the fact it was held in areas such as Olney Hall and adjacent classrooms where smoking is frowned on by the college.

The film, "Too Tough To Care," which is slated for national distribution soon, brought laughs with its deliberate spoofs of the current crop of cigarette commercials. Featuring members of the San Francisco satire group known as "The Committee" in some of the leading roles, it portrayed a fictional cigarette manufacturer and his "creative genius" going to ridiculous lengths to stay ahead of the public impact of medical reports on smoking and cancer.

In the end, the "genius" strikes gold by using the film's title as the theme of a new ad campaign. Concluding that what today's young people want to be is "tough," he identifies the product with men who are so "tough" they do such things as tossing matches into dynamite, releasing the wheel of a racing car — and smoking.

After seeing the film, a few participants asked whether, by laying on the humor thickly, the film had failed to get across its message.

This brought replies that the "fear approach" alone is doomed to failure. This is evidenced, some said, by recent reports that in Great Britain, where tobacco sales dropped sharply after publication of a medical report on smoking and cancer, they now are higher than ever.

Such things as the "stop-smoking clinics" now used in Sweden could work here, other panelists suggested, but only after "a new climate of opinion" begins to form in which people decide for themselves that they want to quit smoking.

The Highway Patrol reported Mrs. Hatt was driving west on Rosal Way when she deliberately rammed her car into a parked auto belonging to Victor J. Semeski of 816 Rosal Way.

Both cars were pushed up onto the lawn of the Semeski home.

New Policy Asked On Aid Repayment

Welfare Director Betty L. Presley has asked the county board of supervisors to reconsider its policy of asking repayment for welfare aid given under the general relief program, now that some of these recipients are asked to do work for the county before receiving a grant.

The work, which may consist of gardening for the public works department or simple clerical work in a county office, is a part of the county work training program. It is designed for the aid program for families with dependent children, but has been included in the general relief setup also.

Aid to families with dependent children is financed jointly by the county, state and federal governments. Persons receiving aid are not asked to pay back the money they get.

The general relief program is entirely county supported, and the aid is considered a debt owed by the recipient. A lien is taken on property and collection often does not come until the death of the recipient.

The work training program, started in February, has changed things. The person on welfare now is required to do work in return for the aid. Is it fair, Miss Presley asks, to require paying back the money too?

County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney said he doubted the county could collect in such a circumstance anyway.

At present, according to the welfare department, 33 persons are assigned to work programs and 16 of these are giving general relief.

NO CLASSROOM? THEN TRY THE YARD

Larkspur School District will have about 100 more pupils next fall than its classrooms are prepared to handle, according to Supt. Milton S. Cohen. To dramatize the need for passage of a bond issue and tax increase to meet the expansion, pupils Saturday set up desks in the school yard at Neil Cummins School. The bonds issue, for $375,000, won't provide classrooms by next fall—two previous attempts which would have done so having failed at the polls. But it would provide them by a year later. It and a 60-cent raise in the permissive limit on general operating tax rate will be voted on June 2. Present limit is $2.10, with the district's total tax rate this year being $2.73, including loan repayments and over-ride taxes.

Some Stars May Exist 'Invisibly'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The depths of space may be studded with superdense tiny stars which, though they pack billions of tons of matter into the volume of a cubic inch, "have vanished from the observable universe."

No light, no radiation, no signal of any kind betrays their presence. They are as invisible as though they did not exist. But theory says they are out there.

SPECIAL CASES

They are special cases of the "neutron star." One of them only three miles in diameter—smaller than many a minor planet—might weight as much as the sun, which has a diameter of 864,000 miles.

Slightly less dense neutron stars, however, should reveal themselves through emission of X-rays. So the theory says. Is there any such thing as a neutron star?

Dr. Herbert Friedman and his colleagues of the Naval Research Laboratory told the National Academy of Sciences at its annual meeting today of strange X-ray signals reported by an Aerobee rocket fired from White Sands, N.M., last year.

The rocket observed an "outstanding X-ray source" in Scorpius, a constellation of the 100 billion-star Milky Way galaxy to which the sun belongs.

The source was in a region "undistinguished by any visibly bright star. Only a neutron star, Friedman said, "could produce such intense X-ray emission and still remain undetectable in visible and radio wave lengths."

BIG EXPLOSION

Astronomy has long known of supernovae, stars which collapse under gravitational forces and explode catastrophically. They occur every 50 to 300 centuries. In blowing its top, or outer layers, a supernova may release in a single second energy comparable to the sun's output for a billion years.

The core of a supernova, compressed by gravity and by the inward force of the explosion, may wind up as a neutron star. Its atoms will have been squeezed to the point where their nuclei come together and touch.

At this point the pressure "rises fantastically with any further increase in density" so that a core 10 miles in diameter would weight about a billion tons per cubic inch. Cores of 100 billion tons to the cubic inch have been postulated.

In an extreme case, the moment would come when no radiations or particles could escape to the universe outside, and the star would seem to an observer to have vanished.

14 TAM AIRMEN MAY HAVE TO BE EVICTED

Government Says Radar Men Soon Will Get Only $160 A Month For Housing

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Fourteen airmen who work atop Mount Tamalpais at the 666th Radar Squadron but live in cities below may be forced out of their government-leased homes by June 30.

They have been notified by the Army Corps of Engineers that during the last session of Congress a $160 a month limitation was placed on rent and utilities for enlisted men who are provided off-base housing at government expense.

Unless owners of the 14 homes, spread throughout Marin County, agree to lower the rent, "we are forced to go out and find our own places and make up the deficit," said M/Sgt. D. M. Bailey today.

"We're going to try to petition Congress," Bailey added.

"We're surviving," said Sgt. Frank Patrick, who said he pays $169 per month for a two-bedroom house in San Rafael with his wife and one child, "but we have a couple of airmen first class that have four children."

One airman, according to Bailey, earns gross pay of $357 per month and has a wife and four youngsters.

"We have another airman first class who makes $387. He is getting out of the service because he can't make it. "Yet," Bailey added, "we are told they spend $65,000 to train us . . . almost everybody has a part-time job to make ends meet."

It is doubtful the home owners will be willing to negotiate for lower rent, the corps of engineers advised the airmen. "Therefore, you are advised that you must locate your own quarters and be moved from government quarters by June 30,1964.

Bailey said that of the maximum allowance of $160, $5 is taken off for redecorating when the home is vacated.

Bailey said an airman first class or staff sergeant with a family receives $105 a month housing allowance; a technical sergeant, $110, and a master sergeant, $114.90, unless the government furnishes housing.

Bailey lives in Novato, a commute of over an hour to the base, his rent and utilities total $163 per month. Because that is over the limit, the government will cancel the lease June 30. For the same house, Bailey would then be out of pocket 48.10 above his allowance.

Bailey said he is trying to collect facts "to point out that $160 is an unrealistic figure in Marin County." He said Marin is more expensive than any of the several locations where he was formerly stationed. "In Texas this allowance ($160) would be more than adequate," he said.

None of the 14 houses are in Mill Valley, the nearest city, he said. Rents there are "out of the question," he declared. Six of the houses are in Novato, four in San Rafael, two in Kentfield, and one each in San Anselmo and Santa Venetia.

The government leases about 40 places in all but only 14 exceed the $160 limit.

Man Accused Of Jumping Policeman

A 22-year-old San Rafael youth was arrested Saturday after he allegedly knocked down an off-duty San Rafael police officer who was arresting the youth's friend.

San Rafael Police Officer John Rosentangle, wearing plain clothes, saw Theodore Louis Amato, 20, of 115 West Street, San Rafael, shouting obscenities at Fourth and Cijos Streets at 12:05 a.m. Saturday.

Rosentangle called police headquarters and Officer G. R. Souza arrived at the scene. As Rosentangle put his hand on Amato's shoulder to make the arrest, Harry M. Hilklin, 22, of 51 Valencia Street, San Rafael, jumped on his back to protest the arrest, police said.

Hicklin was restrained by Souza and charged with battery and assaulting a police officer. Amato was charge with disturbing the peace.

Hicklin was released on bail at 9 a.m. Saturday and scheduled to appear in Marin Municipal Court at 1:30 p.m. today.

Vilas To Speak But Debate Off

There will be no debate tomorrow night between Mrs. Georgette Vilas and her opponent in a May 5 election on her recall as Lagunitas School District trustee.

L. A. Moulton, president of the San Geronimo Valley Assn., which scheduled the debate, announced today that William McBride, Mrs. Vilas's opponent, has withdrawn his agreement to participate.

Moulton said difficulty first arose over selecting a moderator for the debate. The association finally obtained Alan Swabacher, president of the Marin County School Trustees Assn. However, Samuel N. LeCount, campaign manager for McBride, refused to accept Swabacker and said it was too late to get another moderator, Moulton reported.

The meeting will be held as scheduled at 8 p.m. tomorrow in Lagunitas School. Mrs. Vilas speak and answer questions, but there will be no debate.

Disarmament Conference Recess Slated

GENEVA (UPI)—The 17-nation disarmament conference plans to recess tomorrow with delegates hopeful that further agreements between the Soviet Union and the west will develop during the break.

Delegates said developments during the six-week recess — particularly the war of words between the Soviet Union and Communist China — will set the tone for the summer session.

Delegates to the talks, which were resumed Jan. 21, decided last week to recess until June 9.

They said it is impossible to tell at this stage whether there will be any agreements when work is resumed. Some officials doubt there will be much progress this year because of elections in Britain and the United States.

But a great deal of hope among delegates is centered on the possibility of Washington and Moscow reaching understanding to prevent the further spread of nuclear weapons.

A nuclear non-dissemination agreement has been proposed by east and west in Geneva. Moscow, however, insists that the west's projected multilateral force be scrapped first.

Trustees To Discuss San Jose School Hikes

San Jose School District trustees will study proposed salary schedules in a special meeting at 8 p.m. today in the Meadow Park School library.

The proposals were made to the board at its regular meeting last Monday night. Teachers asked increases of $800 in minimum and $2,112 in maximum over a three-year period. Non-teaching personnel asked for a four and one-half per cent across-the-board increase.

Mosk Issues Ban On Pocket Tear Gas Guns

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk today banned pocket tear gas weapons in California.

He directed A. L. Coffey, chief of the Bureau of Criminal Identification and Investigation, to refuse all applications for sale of the miniature weapons. The bureau has not previously approved any of the applications.

Mosk said that in recent months attempts have been made to distribute the weapons. Weapons of this type have been advertised as a protection for women.

"The two that have chiefly attracted our attention are: the Pengun, a five-inch tube which fires a tear gas cartridge, and Rebuff, an aerosol spray device," he said.

Mosk said the CII tests indicate the weapons are "ineffective and dangerous in that they would thus give the owner a false sense of security."

Under state law, Mosk's Justice Department issues permits for possession, transportation and sale of tear gas weapons. There's a maximum penalty of a $2,000 fine and two years in state prison for violating the law.

Girl Learner, Friend Hurt In Car Crash

A 16-year-old San Anselmo girl, learning to drive, and her companion were injured when she crashed a car into a tree along Deer Park Road at the rear of Dominican College at 2:53 p.m. yesterday.

Cornelia Ripley Sais, 16, of 160 Sturdivant Avenue, San Anselmo, the driver, suffered a fractured nose and multiple cuts. She was treated at San Rafael General Hospital.

Michael Bedinger, 17, a student at San Rafael Military Academy, her passenger, suffered a cut forehead and an elbow injury. He was reported in good condition today at San Rafael General Hospital.

San Rafael police said Miss Sais was learning to drive when the car started to drift off the roadway. She stepped on the accelerator instead of the brake, police said.

The car is registered to George M. Bedinger of Bakersfield.

Sheep Owner Says Dogs Killed Animals

Two German shepherd dogs killed four of his sheep early today, Robert F. Ryan of 728 McClay Road, Novato, reported to Novato police.

Ryan told police that he saw the dogs killing the sheep about 5 a.m. but was unable to to get there in time to save them. He valued the four sheep at $200.

Novato Seeks Missing Girls

Two Novato High School girls were sought today as runaways.

Marcia Gerber, 16, of 1049 Sixth Street, and Beverly Ann Parfitt, 14, of 1280 Denlyn Street, left the high school Friday, did not return home, and were last seen Saturday on Market Street in San Francisco, Novato police reported.

Marcia, foster daughter of Mrs. Nancy Weese, was described as five feet, seven inces tall, weighing 145 pounds, with brown hair and brown eyes. Beverly, daughter of Maj- and Mrs. Rexford W. Parfitt, was described as five feet, one inches, weighing 129 pounds, with brown hair and blue eyes. No description of their clothing was obtainable, police said.

Cash, Rings, Radio Taken

Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Lorenzen of 340 Vista Grande, Greenbrae, told sheriff's deputies Friday that cash, two rings and a radio were taken from their home while they were away during the day.

The Marin County Sheriff's Office said the Lorenzens found the house "a shambles" when they returned at 11:30 p.m. A window screen had been forced open in a bathroom to gain entry.

More than $140 in cash, a pair of rings valued at $390, and a radio valued at $49 were missing.

Last Day For Lagunitas Recall Forms Tomorrow

Tomorrow is the final day to apply for absentee ballots for the May 5 election on recall of Lagunitas School District trustee Georgette Vilas.

$500 Vandalism On Chula Vista

Vandals breaking windows and damaging cabinets, mirrors and shutters at small, unoccupied buildings at two lots on Chula Vista Drive, San Rafael, have caused damage estimated at $500 damage over the past several months, according to San Raafel police.

Eloise Heller of Sonoma, owner of the lots between 69 and 83 Chula Vista Drive, said a small house and dog kennels on the property were damaged.

Police also reported that 18 windows were broken at McPhee Plumbing Warehouse, 56 Woodland Avenuee, recently, with 13 being broken between 5 p.m. Friday and 10:35 a.m. Saturday.

Teuscher Garden Requires Tickets

Through an error in Saturday's Marin Magazine, the public was invited to one more Marin County garden next Sunday than it should have been.

Gates of the Capt. L. F. Teuscher gardens at Inverness Park will be opened only to holders of tickets from the Garden Society of Marin. The article, on page M16, stated that the garden would be open to all.

Seven other gardens mentioned in the story will be open during the sixth annual Garden Tour for Gardeners, from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Wildflower Painting Display For Stinson

A collection of 50 paintings of California wildflowers by Florentine Andrea O'Rourke of Mill Valley will be on display at the Sand Dollar in Stinson Beach starting Saturday.

The exhibit will be in conjunction with the seventh annual wild flower show at the Stinson Beach Community Center on Saturday and Sunday.

New Discovery Now Makes It Possible To Shrink And Heal Hemorrhoids Without Surgery

Stops Itch—Relieves Pain In Minutes

New York, N. Y. (Special): A world-famous institute has discovered a new substance which has the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids without surgery. The sufferer first notices almost unbelievable relief in minutes from itching, burning and pain. Then this substance speeds up healing of the injured tissues all while it quickly reduces painful swelling.

Tests conducted under a doctor's observations proved this so—even in cases of 10 to 20 years' standing. The secret is the new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—now offered in both ointment or suppository form called Preparation H®.

In addition to actually shrinking piles—Preparation H lubricates and makes bowel movements less painful. It helps to prevent infection (a principal cause of hemorrhoids).

Only Preparation H contains this magic new substance which quickly helps heal injured cells back to normal and stimulates regrowth of healthy tissue again. Just ask for Preparation H Ointment or Preparation H Suppositories (easier to use away from home). Available at all drug counters.

FANCIED RESEMBLANCE? — If a cat can look at a queen, surely a dog can look at a king—of beasts. So thinks Lulabelle, poodle owned by Mrs. Frank Kelly of 32 Prospect Avenue, Sausalito, as she looks at oil painting by Missy Camp, entitled "Satisfaction of Material Ambition," at Sausalito Art Show. Or maybe Lulabelle thinks it's a portrait of her. (Independent-Journal photo)

Hub Couple Hurt As Car Hits Pole

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert T. Scott of 129 Laurel Avenue, San Anselmo, were injured when their car struck a power pole along Shady Lane, opposite Norwood Avenue, Ross, at 3:15 p.m. yesterday.

Scott, 73, who suffered a cut forehead and head bruises, was reported in poor condition today at Marin General Hospital. He reportedly had been ill before the accident.

Mrs. Scott, 70, who suffered a dislocated hip, was reported in fair condition.

Ross police reported that Mrs. Scott was driving on Shady Lane when for no apparent reason the car swerved and struck the pole.

William P. Regan, 32, of 117 San Rafael Avenue, San Rafael, was treated at Marin General Hospital for cuts and bruises of his chest after his 1952 Studebaker sedan turned over on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard west of Forest Knolls at 11:05 p.m. Saturday.

APPEAL TO SUPERVISORS

Soroptomists Wage Juicy Row At Art-Garden Fair

Because the Marin Art and Garden Fair was re-arranged this year, the Soroptomist Club is stewing over its fruit juice.

Moreover, the club demands relief from the county board of supervisors.

Natalie J. Holley, woman attorney who is Soroptomist president, wants the supervisors to over-rule fair manager Marcelle B. McCoy on moving the club's fruit juice stand, from a former prime spot because of re-arrangement of the fair's concession area.

The new location assigned the Soroptomists, complains Mrs. Holley, is at a dead end.

Fairgoers won't find it there, she contends. A great injustice will be done them because they'll have to go without their fruit juices. And the Soroptimist treasury will suffer too.

Miss McCoy, declaring "we cannot reasonably allow a single concessionaire's preference of location to dictate the design of the show," has given the Soroptimists an ultimatum: Accept the location by tonight, or the fair will find somebody else to sell the fruit juices.

The supervisors, however, will be asked tomorrow to over-rule the fair manager.

Legally, according to County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney, the supervisors have the last word. But whether they should start rearranging fair booths—well, that's outside the legal adviser's ken. He'll let them stew in their own juice over that one.

Making sure you can "Fill it up"...year after year

Our country's demand for petroleum energy will be up 55% in the next 15 years.

Many people think that petroleum is brought out of the ground simply by drilling wells and letting the oil flow out of its own accord.

The fact is, only about 20% of the petroleum in an average field will flow "of its own accord" before the gas pressures give out, and the oil flow stops. If we gave up then, gasoline would not be as plentiful, and the price would be higher.

But, Standard's petroleum engineers don't give up. By supplementing oil field gas pressures with floods of water, gases, detergents, or even controlled fire, they often more than double normal recovery.

These "assisted recovery" methods, developed through years of research, are making new oil fields more productive, and bringing new life to old oil fields. Besides being good business, they lengthen our country's petroleum supply.

This is one of many ways in which Standard, with its large oil reserves in the ground, discharges its responsibility to conserve a vital resource...to keep pace with our country's needs for industry, defense, agriculture . . . and to make sure you can "Fill it up," year after year.

Planning ahead to serve you better

It took this old geyser 2500 years to land a job.

But, it's working hard these days as another source of low-cost PG&E electricity!

The Geysers Power Plant at Big Sulphur Springs, Sonoma County, is unique in this hemisphere. Natural steam from the earth drives turbine generators, making electricity that goes into the PG&E network system serving Northern and Central California.

But we're doing more than providing employment for old geysers. We also create jobs for thousands of young people. In 1964, we are investing $255 million for construction of new gas and electric facilities, providing energy and muscle for the future and also pumping new life into our growing California economy every day of the year.

Stocks At Worst Since JFK Death

NEW YORK (UPI) —The stock market finished last week with its sharpest decline since the assassination of President John F. Kennedy in November.

Prices had retreated considerably by late Friday and a burst of heavy selling in the final half hour of the session pushed them ever lower. Turnover became so heavy, the high-speed tickers lagged five minutes behind floor transactions.

As Wall Street waited the week out for some news on the railroad work rules dispute, industrials worked lower but rails registered one gain after the other except in the final session.

Most brokers termed the sharp decline as a "technical correction." However, most explanations seemed to hinge on the market's reaction to the rail settlement.

News of the accord came too late to be of any help in Wednesday's session but the market opened on the following day with an promising upturn in prices, particularly among the carrier issues. However, by late afternoon the advance ran out of steam and prices tumbled. Even the well positioned rail section was dragged back from its best level.

Prices opened mixed Friday and declined steadily until the big break came shortly after 3 p.m.

Although the corporate background remains good, the economic situation has been slightly grayed by the fact that some of the economic indicators have not risen to their anticipated levels.

The American Iron and Steel Institute reported a gain of 0.04 in steel production above the preceeding week. However in the week before that production had been unchanged, and some forecasters took this as a sign that production was topping out.

There has also been some warnings, both from the White House and economic circles, of the dangers of inflation and the necessity of holding prices down. This was further emphasized by President Lyndon B. Johnson's inuendo that auto makers should reduce their prices.

In the market place itself, many experts feel prices, particularly in some of the recent high-flyers, had risen too high too fast and were due for a setback. They also noted a rise in the number of odd-lot buyers. Many Wall Streeters believe that the arrival of the small buyer in the market signals the impending end of the bull market. They base their feeling on the historic belief the public always gets in too late.

Dow-Jones industrial average tumbled 12.44 from last week's record high to 814.89. Rails slipped 0.89 to 196.18. Utilities eased 0.05 to 139.95. Standard and Poor's 500 stock index skidded 0.80 to 79.75.

Texas Gulf Sulphur topped the market in activity, rising 4 to 44¼ on a turnover of 1,749,400 shares. The stock has been active since last week when the company announced a major zinc, copper and silver discovery in Canada.

Curtis Publishing, which holds timber lands adjacent to the Texas Gulf find, was second with a gain of 1 to 12 on 894,400.

Chrysler took third place with a loss of 3⅜ to 45⅜ on 744,100 shares. The stock started dropping early in the week after the company declared the regular quarterly dividend instead of boosting it as traders had expected.

Pacific Petroleums was fourth with a gain of 2 to 13 on 671,300 shares. The stock became active Thursday after the company announced it had struck a large gas well.

The agreement also provides that Fairchild may use certain Sperry patents through cross licensing if desired.

The agreement will enable Sperry Semiconductor, a division of Sperry Rand Corp., to advance more rapidly into the integrated circuit market, and to provide Sperry Rand Corp. with an in-house capability in microelectronics.

Safeway's consolidated sales for the four weeks ended April 18 amounted to $208,220,169 as compared as $200,102,716 for the four weeks ended April 20, 1963, an increase of 4.1 per cent.

New Rule Permits Wider Loan Policy

PASADENA — Under a revised regulation published by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, federally chartered savings and loan associations are able to make loans to builders to enable them to purchase land, develop it into building sites and subsequently construct homes, according to Franklin Hardinge Jr., executive vice president of the California Savings and Loan League.

The regulation is effective May 25.

Prior to the adoption of the ruling, Hardinge said, the ability of federals to engage in this activity was severely curbed.

Rally Cuts Down Loss In Market

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed with a loss today but a late rally sharply reduced the worst decline. Trading was active.

The market declined after a hesitant start. It widened its losses until late afternoon when a wave of buying erased many minus signs and brought substantial gains to a number of issues.

Volume for the day was estimated at 5.1 million shares compared with 5.64 million Friday.

Kay stocks fell from fractions to 1 or 2 points. A scattering of issues resisted the down-trend.

The market was continuing the decline of Friday, despite a backdrop of fairly encouraging business news. Profits were taken on many gainers.

Texas Gulf Sulphur still was higher, adding about 2 points as it paced the list on volume. Chrysler was a poor second in trading and eased.

General Motors was down more than a point. Eastman Kodak was down a fraction.

Losses of about 2 points were taken by Goodrich and Jones & Laughlin.

Merck lost more than 2. Xerox dropped 2. Western Air Lines fell 4 or more.

Sears Roebuck and Socony-Mobil rose more than a point each.

Prices declined on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate bonds declined slightly. U. S. government bonds were unchanged.

Celtics Prove All-Time Greatness With Sixth Title

By BOB HOOBING

BOSTON (AP) — "This has to be the best Celtics team of all," Bill Russell, the man who proved defense can dominate a scorer's game, summed up Boston's unprecedented sixth straight National Basketball Assn. championship and seventh in eight years.

After the Celtics defeated San Francisco 105-99 last night, the big center heaved a sigh of relief in a jubilant dressing room, put one giant sneaker on the bench and beamed.

"The league was tougher this year so we had to be better to win," Russell said. "No one can tell me San Francisco isn't a great team. We all know Cincinnati was terrific. Boston had to be something special.

"I've played with great guys all my career, but these are the greatest."

"No one picked us to win and we stuffed it down their throats," said Coach Red Auerbach. "Winning these championships gets bigger every year. The first one still is the first one, something special. But next to 1957, this has to be the biggest."

No team in professional sports had ever won six straight playoff titles before. The Celtics had been tied at the previous record of five with the New York Yankees' World Series winners of 1949-'53 and Montreal's Stanley Cup hockey champs, 1956-'60.

Boston lost the lead it had held since the second period early in the final quarter against the persistant Warriors, then regained the edge. Retiring co-captain Frank Ramsey got the winning point on a free throw to make the score 100-92. But Wilt Chamberlain cut the lead to two points, 101-99, with 19 seconds left.

Russell dunked a Tommy Heinshon miss with 12 seconds left to settle the issue.

Russell played the full 48 minutes, had 26 rebounds, 14 points and 6 assists. Heinshon scored 19 while Ramsey and Sam Jones contributed 18 each.

Chamberlain got 30 points, 18 in the second half, and scrappy little Guy Rodgers had 19.

"There is no chance of my coming back," Ramsey said. "Winning the last one—like this makes retirement so much sweeter."

Jim Loscutoff also retiring while Clyde Lovellette and Willie Kaulls have considered quitting.

The Celtics agreed they proved to the sport world what they always knew: That neither the loss of all-time playmaker Bob Cousy nor advancing years could end their reign.

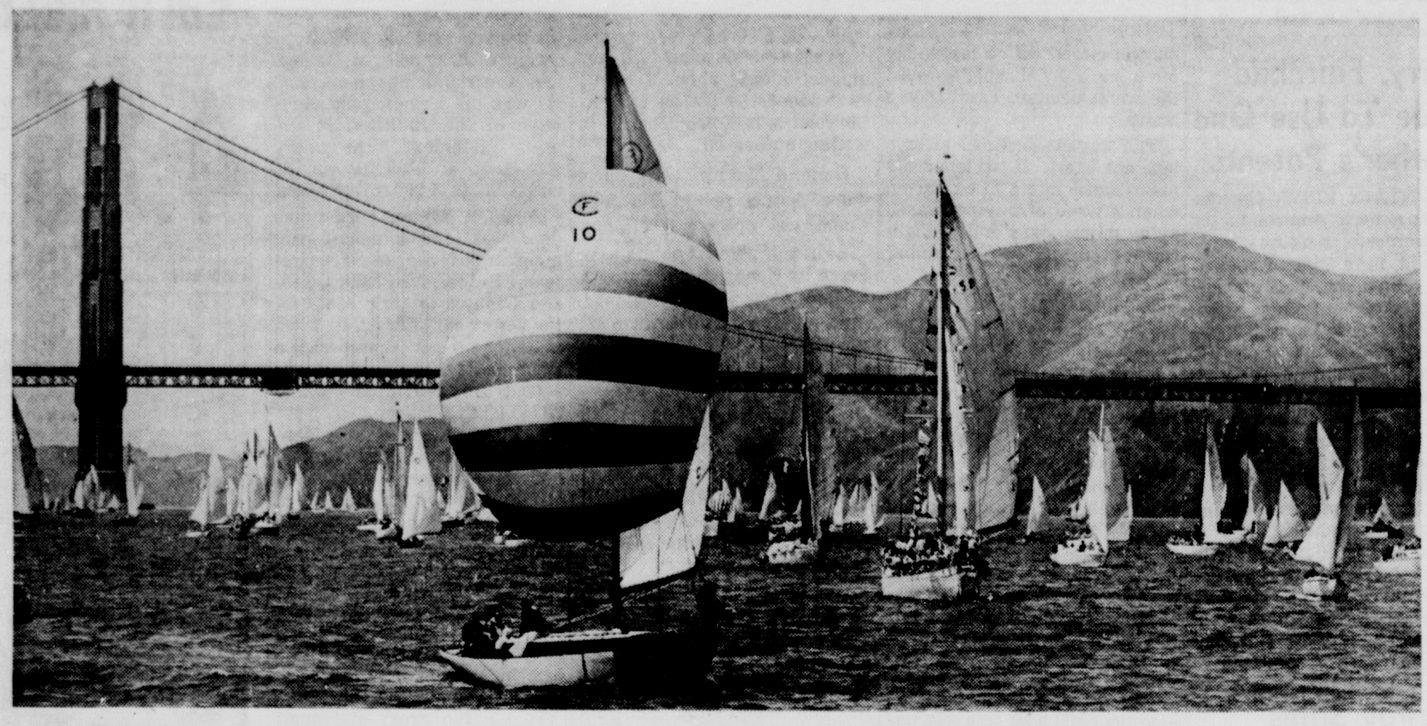
"Give all the credit to the Celtics," said San Francisco Coach Alex Hannum, who was one of the first visitors in the Boston locker room to offer congratulations. His players quickly followed.

"Boston truly is a great ball club," Hannum continued. "I thought my team came back with great courage in the face of adversity.

"Tom Meschery turned his ankle very severely in the second quarter.

"And while we're on the subject of injuries, Chamberlain was hurting. Yet we were in the game until the last few seconds."

Chamberlain was hurt in the first period when he fell to the floor and cut his left hand.



MIGHTY BAY SAIL, POWER FLEET OPENS YACHTING SEASON

This is just a part of the armada of some 1,500 power cruisers and sailboats that paraded colorfully on San Francisco Bay yesterday to officially launch the 1964 yachting season. Independent-Journal photographer Jim Kean was on hand to capture this breathtaking spectacle of the windwagons parading under the Golden Gate Bridge and across the waters they'll grace competitively during the busy racing schedule in weekends to come.

Ex-Dodger Flop Now A Big Hero

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

After pitching himself out of a permanent job with the Los Angeles Dodgers for four years, Phil Ortega has hurled himself into manager Walter Alston's heart in about two hours.

The 24-year-old right-hander, starting in place of the injured Sandy Koufax, stymied Milwaukee 1-0 on four hits yesterday as the depleted Dodgers won only their third game in 12 starts. The victory, Ortega's first in the major league, came at a most propitious time.

This is the fifth season Ortega has had a trial with the Dodgers. Even in the minors he has not risen to the expectations others had for him when Los Angeles signed him out of a Mesa, Ariz., high school for a reported $60,000 bonus in 1959.

But now, his 1.20 earned run average is the best the Dodgers have. Before his shutout, he had pitched only 6⅔ innings in relief.

Elsewhere in the National League yesterday, Philadelphia whipped Chicago 5-1, Houston swept past St. Louis 6-4 and Pittsburgh and New York split a double-header, the Pirates winning the first 4-3 and losing the nightcap 3-2. San Francico and Cincinnati were rained out of their double-header.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

In the American League action, New York nipped Baltimore 5-4, Chicago edged Boston 2-1, Minnesota got by Detroit 3-2 in 11 innings, Washington stopped Kansas City 7-4 and Los Angeles blanked Cleveland 7-0.

Ortega, a 6-foot-2, 175-pounder, struck out three and walked only one after the Dodgers gave him a run in the first inning. He was in trouble just once—when Lee Maye tripled in the fourth. However, third baseman John Werhas grabbed Joe Tore's grounder and nailed Maye at the plate.

Philadelphia got three home runs plus seven innings of tight pitching from Ray and Culp before he tired. Tony Taylor and Gus Triandos socked solo homers while Bobby Wine unloaded a three-run blast in the sixth.

St. Louis played its game with Houston under protest. That action stemmed from an unusual double play in the eighth inning when the Colts scored two runs.

Mike White scored on Rusty Staub's fly ball. Manager Johnny Keane contended White's run should have counted. Aspromonte had singled home what turned out to be the winning run earlier in the inning.

Ron Hunt and Tim Harkness rallied the Mets after they threw away the first game. Hunt scored all three runs after he singled, doubled and tripled. Harkness sent him home two of those times with singles.

The Pirates won the opener on Roberto Clemente's bases loaded single in the ninth. Errors by Al Moran and John Stevenson and a walk to Bill Virdon had filled the bases.

Dark's Platooning System Shows He Hasn't Full Faith In Hart

CONNOLLY

The scorching play of the Giants makes 'em hard to analyze. They have no business being where they are in the National League standings. The pitching is off color, the fielding miserable and the hitting, outside of the home run clouting of a few, is deplorable. Yet it is the consensus of veteran baseball writers the Giants are the team to beat. But why?

From where we hang out you can sum up the operations of the S. F. club as being quite cozy. In the first place Manager Alvin Dark's platooning system indicates he hasn't 100 per cent confidence in Jim Hart filling the bill at third base. So as to protect himself, Alvin, dangerously, I think, is alternating Chuck Hiller at second base with Jimmy Davenport. It isn't because Alvin doesn't think Davenport can fill the bill but it is to keep Hiller in shape for the "sudden Death" flop of Hart. In that way he can restore Davenport to third base and feel he protected himself with Hiller by keeping him acquainted with things and ready to step in and take over his old second base job.

The case of Davenport and Hiller is somewhat like the fate of Matty Alou, Duke Snider, Harvey Kuenn and other fly-chasing fellows who have been substituting for Jesus Alou, one of the so-called indispensable rookies who is acting like an elevator—going up and down—in the thoughts of skipper Dark.

This criticism of "Antsy Alvin" is to point out the twisted type of strategy, of the negative type, he is employing so early in the 1964 pennant race.

IF THERE is anything wrong with the Giants today it isn't worth worrying about. They are winning games now they used to kick overboard. They look bad and yet they are forever threatening, so we might say they are outgaming their opponents. If for no other reason they give smatterings of the power they have whenever Mays, McCovey or Cepeda smack long drives.

THE OTHER observation of Manager Dark to date is that he might be spoiling Tom Haller, youthful, hard hitting catcher. Dark is trying to convince Haller he rates alongside of such catching greats as Bill Dickey and Elston Howard. And he does that by banking on Haller as though he was entitled to the same consideration as he gives Mays, McCovey or Cepeda. The best example of that was in Saturday's game with the Reds when, in the fifth inning, no outs and runners on third and second base, he allowed Haller to swing instead of hitting or running or playing percentage ball and trying to score.

Pitchers, generally, in the National League have proven themselves stumble bum infielders so why not test them in the clinches?

Jim Maloney, while a better all around ball player than most pitchers, has never won any medals for being a "cat" in fielding bunts. But Dark chose twice to allow Haller to WIN THE BALL GAME AND threw away whatever percentage chance he had of scoring runs.

Dark must be given credit for having outguessed himself.

At the start of the season he announced he would bunt home a run when Juan Marichal was pitching, even if it was in the first inning. He might do the same for pitcher Jack Sanford. And if he had tried last Saturday, he might have convinced himself he was thinking straight.

WHEN I SAY the Giants are fielding miserably let me say they rank last in the first weeks averages, and fifth in team batting.

The Giants will be a "soft defensive team" until Jim Hart gets better acquainted with major league playing standards. He puts more pressure on Jose Pagan at shortstop because he hasn't the range of Davenport, nor can he throw as accurately. He's a lopsided infielder with a potent bat and if his fielding improves the way I think his hitting will, he is well worth being given a chance to catch up on his fielding manners.

IT CAN be said of the Giants they are poised properly to exploit not only Jesus Alou and Jim Hart but to give their young pitchers more of a chance.

Bob Bolin, Ron Herbel and Jim Duffalo have look promising so far and I believe when Gaylord Perry gets a chance he might prove an interesting youngster. There is no time better for the Giants to test out what they have than at this stage of the pennant fight. If they can win with cock-eyed pitching, feeble bats and sieve-like fielding why not risk a chance on their youthful pitching?

In match vs. par competition, Madrid was three up, Sauter and McLennan one up each and Cassell even.

They advanced to yesterday's finals by winning matches Saturday, Madrid over Art Schallock, two up; Sauter over John Arndt, 6 and 4; Cassell over Earl O'Grady, 3 and 2; and McLennan over Irv Viner, 2 and 1.

In best ball foursome play at Peacock yesterday, two teams tied for first scores of 58. The foursomes were Schallock Joe Messina, Ed Kalfain and Arndt and O'Grady, Mike O'Connell, Jack Oldfin and Joe Wilson.

MARIN GOLF CLUB

Richard Kaye fired a low-net 69 to take the Saturday honors at the Marin Golf Club.

Kaye nosed out Jules Becker of Ross and Aaron Bloom, who ran up scores of 71 apiece in their tie for second place. Lynn Burks from Terra Linda and Norman Bourke wound up in a tie for fourth with 72s.

MEADOW CLUB

Norris Seastrom and John Cann, both of San Anselmo, teamed up Saturday to post a best-ball twosome score of 59, good enough for Class A honors at the Meadow Club in Fairfax.

Lee Ceccotti of Larkspur joined with Wally Laster of San Anselmot o manage a tie in the class B event with a total best ball score of 59. Also coming in with a 59 was the team of James Morena and Lenny Marconi.

All This Rest Worries Dark

CHICAGO (AP) — Much to Manager Alvin Dark's dismay, the red hot San Francisco Giants are getting lots of rest these days.

It isn't that Dark begrudges his charges a day of leisure every now and then. It's just that he'd prefer if the off-days would come later in the season, when the hot weather and heavy schedule combine to sap a club's strength.

When their doubleheader with the Cincinnati Reds was rained out yesterday, it marked the third time in the infant season that the Giants have had the day off.

Today is a scheduled open date, so Dark will have to content himself with putting the Giants through a practice session in Chicago while awaiting tomorrow's opener of a three-game series with the Cubs.

"Nobody benefits from a rain-out," Dark said after the umpires called off the twin bill.

"It forces a stackup of late-season doubleheaders and places considerable burden on the pitching staff — especially one that is either thin in number or hurting a little," said the Giants' mentor.

The washout is expected to have little effect on San Francisco's pitching rotation, except that veteran southpaw Billy O'Dell now is slated to skip a turn.

O'Dell and lefty Bob Hendley were to have faced the Reds yesterday. Dark said he now plans to open with Hendley against the Cubs, then come back the next two days with righthanded aces Juan Marichal and Jack Sanford.

The enforced layoff could be beneficial for at least one Giant—first baseman Orlando Cepeda, who has been playing only sporadically since injuring his knee in the second game of the season.

Cepeda had five hits in six at-bats — including one home run — when he was injured and has been at bat only ten times since. The fact that he's managed three hits even with a bum knee is causing Dark to wonder what the Giants might do if Orlando were playing full time.

Even with slugging Orlando out, the Giants have managed seven victories in their first 10 games and trail pace-setting Philadelphia by just a half game.

MARIN YOUTH WINS NORCAL TENNIS TITLE

Andy Moffat, 11-year-old sixth grade student at Park School, Mill Valley, won the Northern California Tennis Championship in boys aged 12 and under singles yesterday at Golden Gate Park, San Francisco.

Moffat, third seeded in the division, upset the top-seeded Brad Thomas of Sacramento, 6-3, 4-6, 6-2 in their thrilling finals battle.

Two years ago the Mill Valley youngster was the top 10-year-old division player in Northern California and this year hopes to attain the same lofty status in the older group.

U.S. Cage Team Defeats Russians

LENINGRAD (AP) — The United States touring basketball team, featuring five members of the 1964 Olympic team, won its first game in the Soviet Union yesterday after three straight defeats, 74-65 over an all-Leningrad selection. The Americans lost two bames in Moscow and one in Leningrad to Russian teams, after splitting two games in Poland.

Oerter's Discus Mark Submitted

WALNUT (AP)—Meet director Hilmer Lodge of the Mt. San Antonio Relays said yesterday that the discus throw of 206 feet 6 inches by Al Oerter Saturday will be formally submitted as a world record.

There had been some conjecture that a fraction of an inch might be shaved off of Oerter's 206-6, but Lodge said that a review and re-survey of the site erased any doubt about the mark.

Fairfax Nips San Anselmo In Comedy Of Errors, 11-9

Handling the horsehide like it was a hot potato, the Fairfax team nevertheless rallied for six runs in the eighth inning to edge the San Anselmo Merchants 11-9 at Drake High school's diamond.

The Garagemen committed eight errors and their pitchers issued fourteen (count 'em, 14) walks in a classic example of, it's better to give than to receive."

The Fairfax team, however, offset its generosity by pounding out 14 hits, including a grand slam homer by Bill Gallagher in a five-run fourth inning and a three-run triple by Eddie DeMaestri during a six-run eighth frame.

Gallagher with three hits and two each by Bill Finn and Al Ruoff paced the winners while Vince Pallavacini had two safeties for the losers.

ALMOST LOSES HER HEAD

Marilynn Smith almost gets her head bashed in as she ducks the swinging putter of partner July Kimball who showed a bit of anger after missing a putt in yesterday's Women's Titleholders Golf Tourney play at Augusta, Ga. Scorching Back Nine Gives Crampton Texas Golf Title

SAN ANTONIO (UPI)—Bruce Crampton clipped six strokes off par on the back nine yesterday to nip Juan Rodriguez and Bob Charles by one stroke for top money in the $40,000 Texas Open golf tournament.

It was Crampton's first win in two years.

The little Australian went into the final round six strokes off the pace and made the turn at one over. But then he birdied the 10th, 11th, 12th, 14th, 15th and 17th holes and finished with a 5-under-par 65 for the day and a total score of 273.

Rodriguez, the skinny pro from Puerto Rico, needed only an 8-foot putt for a par on No. 18 to tie for top money. But his ball rimmed away and he had to settle for the second place tie with New Zealander Charles.

Veteran E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, the leader at the end of the third round, ballooned to a 4-over-par 74 yesterday and fell into a four-way tie for eighth place.

Bunched at 275, one stroke behind Rodriguez and Charles, were Miller Barber of San Antonio, Gene Littler of La Jolla, Calif., Mason Rudolph of Lehigh Acres, Fla., and Don January of Dallas.

Crampton's victory, his first since the Motor City Open in 1962 and only his second on the American pro tour, was worth $5800.

Crampton used only 29 putts on his final round. He took a bogey on No. 5 when his second shot landed in a trap, but after that he was unbeatable.

EX-CHAMPION LOSES ALL HIS MEMENTOS

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Ex-fighter Al McCoy, 72, who won the world's middleweight boxing championship a half-century ago, narrowly escaped flames that destroyed his home yesterday.

"I don't wanna live no more," the old fighter mumbled, his hair singed by the blazing fire. "This ruins me —I got tnothin' left."

Pictures, newspaper clippings and other mementoes went up in flames along with his house. McCoy's wife, Ruth, died eight years ago.

Gloomy News For Local Anglers, But Conditions Should Improve

STEVENS

When a piscatorial pundit sits down to disseminate the fishing news he is likely to stress the good and play down the bad. Just to be a bit contrary, I will reverse the procedure today. Most of the items are bad, but read on; the good will appear. Here goes:

Salmon trolling petered out with sundown Monday of last week. The action had been fast and furious over the weekend; might have been okay on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, had the party boats been able to get out after the salmon, but few if any could buck the elements. Came Saturday — still unfavorable water, but one boat I know did get out. The Sea Horse out of Lee Anderson's in Oakland, berthed at the Berkeley Harbor, had a rough trip, but managed to hang and land nine nice salmon to 18 pounds. So, with even a moderate lessening of the wild winds and waves, chances are fairly promising for a successful salmon trip.

I RATHER imagine the San Pablo Bay bass fishing was as poor all during the week past as it has been in 1964. Again the winds may be blamed. Practically all my contacts had the same sad story of lousy weather and very slow fishing. On both sides of the bay the story was the same. Only one report of a limit taken came in. Joe Nerviani of Joe's Launching at Santa Venetia told of one hardy character who was on the job a bit after sunup and came in before the winds took over with a limit of stripers. "All small ones, Ralph," said Joe. Incidently, Joe agrees that the prospects for this week are raher good — particularly toward the end of the week. Better tides and MAYBE a slackening of the wind.

FRANK JOSEPH of Joseph's at Rodeo admitted no fish had come into his place on Saturday and Sunday, and declared he had only seen one lone fish taken for several days.

Reports from the Delta Region were on a par with the local front. Lots of baby bass to keep you busy, but very few keepers.

SO THAT'S the bad part of the tale. Here comes some better news: Two boats out of Berkeley Harbor, working through Lee Anderson's, trolled in the deep hole off Treasure Island on Saturday. The Troller came back with 6 limits to 17 pounds; the R.S.P., fishing the same hole the same day, netted 6 limits to 11 pounds. A few fish were taken by casters off the Toll Bridge on Saturday, and if history repeats itself the shore casting from Ashby Avenue, Berkeley, to the Golden Gate Fields should come to life from Thursday on.

MORE GOOD news. Suetta LaGrone of Dillon's Point reported plugcasters, John Read, took a 23-pound striper on a 703 plug one day, and a 36-pounder the previous day. "Some bass and some flounders have been taken from shore on bait, also," said Suetta.

JOE NAVARRO of Sportsmen's Center in Castro Valley reported Tom Swift and wife getting a 7 pound bass, 24 normal catfish, and one blue cat of 8 pounds, 8 ounces. Edward Statzel Jr., displayed a 5 pound and a 3¾ pound blackie from Berryessa—Wrag Canyon area. Two other local lads came back from Berryessa with 10 blackies from 3¾ to 5¾ pounds, all taken trolling 50 wards from shore on a "Rebel" lure.

Marin Relay Team Places In J.C. Meet

College of Marin track and field coach Dick Read entered his cindermen in four events at the Northern California Relays held Saturday at Foothill College in Los Altos, and, in two of those events, the Tars came up with outstanding performances.

The Nor-Cal relays encompassed 23 junior colleges from the Fresno area to the Oregon border, and involved some of the roughest J.C. competition in the entire state.

The Marin sprint medley team of Rich Brown, Bill Ranney, Bill Gillingham and Jim Duff turned in a time of 3:34.1 to earn a fifth place award.

The same team competed in the mile relay, and although it did not place, it set a new Tar record for the event. The four speedsters knocked four seconds off the old record with their Nor-Cal relay time of 3:-26.4.

Next week, the entire College of Marin track and field team will travel to Sierra College for the Golden Valley Conference Meet to determine the GVC champion. Host Sierra is favored, with Santa Rosa and the Tars close behind.

Sixto Fights On Benefit Card Tonight

Light heavyweights Sixto Rodriguez of San Anselmo and Norm Letcher of San Francisco clash in a 10-round main event tonight at San Francisco's Kezar Pavilion in a boxing show for the benefit of Crescent City tidal wave flood victims.

As an added attraction, "name" fighters Eddie Machen, Bobo Olson and Luis Molina will work out in exhibitions.

Two six rounders and one four, featuring promising young Bay Area pugilists, complete the benefit card promoted by Lou Thomas and matched by Mario Spampinato.

Action starts at 8:30 o'clock. Reserved seats at $5 and $3.

Rodriguez will be making his first Northern California appearance in a year. The San Anselman has spent his most recent boxing time with main events in Italy.

Quick, Watson, the Needle!

This may well be a foolish admission, but I was actually eager for the expert needling from the very efficient nurse. Foolish, in that it may well firm up any lingering doubts concerning my lucidity. If you will look this way, folks, you'll notice my severe critic, Doug Cowan, nodding with vigorious affirmity (a large measure of my gratification in writing this column comes from the surprise Doug often endures when he bravely turns to this page and reads my foot-in-mouth utterings for the first time).

How'd we get on that tract? We were talking about needles—I think. A vaccination, naturally. Burst a few bubbles there, didn't I? You were sure this kook had become a mainliner, now, didn't you? But no, daughter Marilyn bubbled up to me (she always bubbles—even about ducks, jack-rabbits, and the weather!) to assure me her vaccination was utterly painless—nay, even pleasant. Considering her almost uncontrollable exuberance over our impending European jaunt, I kinda suspected her recital of her needle episode was somewhat discolored by self-hypnosis. But I went to the mercy-type lady, anyway, and it wasn't bad at all—not good, either, I might add.

Now, of course, we're biding our time until the instructions come from Fugazy Travel in New York, together with the inevitable identification tags which will label us to the natives of Paris as pigeons (whoops! I mean tourists). But, wife Myrl and I have been the route before, in Puerto Rico and Honolulu. So, we dutifully wear the tags at nose-count inspection, and swiftly tear them off on the way out the door, just in time before we meet our first native. No sense giving him an advantage. If I keep my mouth shut I can pass as a Frenchman, and Myrl—well, she and Marilyn can be taken as a couple of sharp-looking chicks with more avarice than taste.

Seriously, though (I can be serious—sometimes) if this trip is half as enjoyable as the wondrous anticipation, complete with irradiant glow our girl Marilyn is experiencing, it should be a real bash. You know when our contest first started, 'way back on January 2nd, I promised Marilyn she would come with us, if we beat out all those city slicker Ford dealers. Seemed like a pretty safe promise at the time, what with the apparent insurmountable handicap handed us by the factory brass (you remember, I cried right here in this corner about that, too!) But, I didn't reckon with the determination of our men at Ames Ford to see me off for a spell, and so, here we are, poised for the trip.

I've been trying for just about 19 years to make points with our Marilyn, and I get the feeling now that I may have finally made it. When she spotted that cashier's check in payment of just her share of the trip—I tried the Ford Foundation, but they laughed and laughed—Marilyn whispered to Myrl, "Daddy must really think a lot of me to spend so much money to take me with you." Yes, I do. And, it's high time you got the message too, girl!

We'll be leaving for the first leg of our journey—to the World's Fair in New York—on May 10th. Then, it's on to Paris and London! We're planning a fast side trip to Rome, too, if we can escape the scout leaders. I think we can. Meanwhile, back at the store—Ames Fordland, that is—the boys will enjoy their own short vacation, and will celebrate their new birth of freedom by trying to give away a batch of new Fords and used cars. They know it'll take me awhile even after my return to catch up to them, so they're going to be pretty brazen about dealing close.

And, Doug Cowan will more than likely figure out I'm an expensive luxury around the place. But, I'm going to have a good time, anyway.

Justices Reject Rail Union Appeal

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court cleared the way today for the nation's railroads to begin eliminating the jobs of firemen under the decision of a compulsory arbitration board.

The refusal of the court to hear an appeal from the rail unions on the arbitration means that the lay-offs can begin May 7. Up to 30,000 firemen could eventually be eliminated and the status of 19,000 other crewmen was still in doubt.

The first to be dismissed under the arbitration will be diesel firemen with less than two years' service. In addition, railroads are entitled to cutback on the number of firemen by not replacing those who retire, transfer or otherwise give up their jobs.

The court decision against hearing arguments in the dispute came five days after President Lyndon B. Johnson won a strike-averting agreement from the railroads and the unions on a series of other work issues which were unaffected by the arbitration.

The railroads claim that the elimination of the jobs will save an estimated 250 million dollars a year. The arbitration is binding over the next two years.

It was ordered by Congress last session when the government had exhausted all ordinary settlement machinery under the Railroad Labor Act and a strike loomed.

The arbitration was confined however, to two issues: the use of firemen in freight and yard service, and the size of crews outside the engine cab.

President H. E. Gilbert of the Firemen's union has announced he will try to halt removal of firemen when the arbitration award expires in two years. In addition, firemen cannot be eliminated in states which have "full crew" laws. Among them are New York and California.

Spokesmen for the railroads have indicated they will try to have these laws repealed at the state level.

In other actions today, the court:

1. Agreed to examine a Florida law which forbids a man and a woman of different races to cohabit habitually in the same room overnight. The case arose from the arrest and conviction of a Honduran native identified as a Negro and a white woman at a Miami Beach apartment.

2. Accepted for decision an appeal from the American Committee for protection of Foreign Born which has been ordered to register under the subversive activities control act as a Communist front.

A Fair Job With Plenty Of Challenge

FAIR MANAGER Marcelle B. McCoy surveys the grounds of the center in Ross where the exhibits will begin to materialize in the next two months as she coordinates the efforts of several hundred persons toward a successful and exciting Marin Art and Garden Fair.

One of the series of articles on Marin's working women.

By BARBARA HOSMER

Managing a county's largest single event — its fair — is an unusual occupation, and when Marcelle B. McCoy first took on the job in Marin seven years ago she was one of only two women fair managers in California.

Now, she points out, there are four out of a possible 78.

"It's a good job for a woman . . . and one of the most absorbing and interesting a person could have," she attests.

"You have to be economical, aesthetic and try to improve from year to year . . . it combines public relations, business administration and creativity."

THESE ARE sufficient challenges to take up most of her year, Mrs. McCoy finds, but after October she has more time for housewifery, and plunges into cooking, sewing and redecorating projects in her Sleepy Hollow home, which she shares with her two sons, aged 16 and 18. Last fall she managed to paint the whole interior of the house.

But for 10 months of the year she devotes herself to fair management which requires coordination of a wide variety of elements from her Marin Art and Garden Center office to make a successful show —

BEGINNING THE first of January she and the fair designer collaborate on selection of a theme for the July fair, trying to be different, give a guide to the exhibitors and find a phrase that will be attractive, Mrs. McCoy explains.

When the theme is chosen they write the premium schedule, which is fair talk for the book describing the specifications exhibitors must follow.

THEN ALL THE entertainment must be booked —

"We have a very special type of show here . . . other fairs engage nightclub and variety type acts, but in this county people demand something on a higher level," says the fair manager. "We can't afford professional entertainment and we don't want the real amateur. We book semi-professional or very top level amateurs.

"There are three nights to fill and it has to be different each night, and you try also to fit the fair theme." Shakespeare and ballet are on the books for this year.

All of this must be done by April 1 when the plans for the fair are disclosed at the exhibitors luncheon, Mrs. McCoy explains.

THEN THE PHYSICAL development of the grounds is the main thing. It's difficult because of the temporary nature of all the structures."

"We also get the judges and clerks for the fair and line up properties and program advertisers."

WHAT GOES ON at the fair manager's second floor office in Octagon House while upward of 28,000 people tread through the Marin Art and Garden Center enjoying the fair?

"There is a steady stream of minor problems. . . .

"Also we have 23 service organizations using the fair as a means of earning money for their special projects. We try to see that there is no duplication of items and to get satisfactory locations for the booths — we want them to get the most money for their club projects," the manager explains.

MARIN'S IS THE only fair that operates entirely with volunteers for its service, she points out.

MRS. McCOY SAYS that fair management is not something you can learn in school — yet. You must know something about budgeting, entertainment, construction and display—"You are a salesman selling an idea by display," she says.

She got into the fair business in an inauspicious way on the strength of her stenographic skills — "I began by typing some thank-you letters on a volunteer basis," she says. Then she became a part-time and then full-time secretary for the fair. In 1951 she became assistant fair manager and in 1958 she managed her first fair.

"It's a marvelous outlet for imagination and it has led into other things —" she says.

FREQUENTLY Mrs. McCoy is asked to judge at other fairs, contests and exhibits. She is also coordinator and works with the designer of the Marin County exhibit for the California State Fair in Sacramento each September, a job which begins as soon as the Marin Fair closes.

In 1962 she coordinated dedication ceremonies for the Marin Civic Center, and the following spring she was coordinator of the highly suc-

IT'S ALL ON paper until the Ross grounds begin to take on their festive appearance for the five July days when more than 28,000 visitors are expected to see the Marin Art and Garden Fair. Its manager sees the Marin fair as unique in its emphasis on the arts.

HERE'S A HOUSEWIFE WITH A SIMPLE AID TO CONSUMER

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A Maryland housewife wrote to the federal government a proposal to help the consumer by reducing taxes . . .

"I feel money could be saved by eliminating the Air Force," she wrote. "We only need the Army and Navy departments anyway."

THE AMERICAN CONSUMER

How Seekers After Fountain Of Youth Are Often Swindled

(The last of five dispatches on the American consumer.)

By HARRY FERGUSON

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Millions of Americans cling stubbornly to the belief that there is a fountain of youth somewhere over the rainbow, and they are swindled out of $500 million annually.

They buy things that not only cannot possibly help them but actually endanger their health and in some cases their lives. Take, for instance, Mme. Cora Galenti-Smith and her "fountain of beauty ranch." Before she was fined and sentenced to prison for mail fraud she had separated gullible American women from $1 million.

WHAT SHE advertised was "a glorious facial rejuvination," which turned out to be some sort of skin peeling process. What she used was a strong solution of carbolic acid which left many of her victims disfigured for life.

Or take the case of Mrs. Alice Hill cited by the Federal Food and Drug Administration. She drove 165 miles to see a man who advertised a cure-all herb tonic. He examined her left foot and then advised her she had a tumor in the right breast, diabetes, arthritis, a malfunction of the gall bladder and possibly cancer of the colon. She bought $185 worth of tonic before she realized it wasn't helping her.

NO FEDERAL EXPERT even attempts to guess what Americans spend annually on things they believe have nutritional value, the so-called diet supplements. Some of them are valuable and needed when taken under the supervision of a physician. Others are a waste of money.

Commissioner George P. Larrick of the Food and Drug Administration believes so many persons, particularly in the higher age brackets, waste their money because they accept as truth at least one of the following fur myths.

—That all diseases are due to faulty diet.

—That our food is nutritionally inferior because the American soil is impoverished from long use.

—That commercial food processing destroys nutritional value. Larrick says the fact is that processing reduces the value of some foods, preserves it intact in some and in others actually adds to it.

—That minor aches and fatigue mean a person is eating the wrong thing or not enough of the right thing.

MYTHS DIE HARD and thousands of persons still are being swindled as a result of Dr. Elisha Perkins and his metallic tractor." He obtained a patent in 1796 on two metal rods about three inches long, by pulling them downward over the affected part of the body, the disease was supposed to be yanked out.

"Perkins' theories were widely disseminated in this country and abroad," says the Food and Drug Administration. "They still persist today. We see them in the magnetic belts, magnetic bracelets and many types of complicated-looking contraptions. There is no scientific evidence to support the theories of Dr. Perkins and all devices based on his theories are considered worthless for any medical purpose."

CURRENTLY THERE is much interest in sea water on the theory it contains minerals not available elsewhere, and the going price seems to be $3.75 a gallon. The Food and Drug Administration rules that sea water is useless and, in the case of heart patients, can be dangerous. It made a six-state roundup of persons who were selling it and advertising it would help or cure persons suffering from cancer, diabetes, epilepsy, asthma, arthritis, insanity, cataracts, high blood pressure, baldness, sterility, split finger nails, goiter, and gray hair.

FOOD FADS COME and go and the Food and Drug Administration carefully investigates all of them and then publishes its findings. Here are some recent results:

"Yogurt may be recommended for certain intestinal conditions, but nutritionally it is the same as milk, which costs much less. The 'minerals' in blackstrap molasses are mainly impurities that get in during the sugar refining process and have no health importance. Wheat germ is a useful cereal food, but it does not perform any nutritional miracles."

Lest the Food and Drug Administration be placed in the position of denouncing all dietary foods, it points out that there are people who need something special.

Persons suffering from a heart condition and high blood pressure need low sodium and salt free food.

DIABETICS REQUIRE a special diet. Some elderly persons need special food to solve their hearing problem. People with allergies frequently benefit from special diets.

But the slogan of the administration is this: "There is no substitute for a well balanced diet. Pills cannot take the place of food."

LUNCHEON IN NORTH MARIN

The annual meeting and installation of officers of the North Marin Council of Parent-Teacher Assn. was held prior to a luncheon at the Hilltop Restaurant Friday in Novato. Mrs. Dale Moore, 14th District P-TA president, Mrs. H. J. Marsh, new president of the North Marin Council, and Mrs. Robert Money, recipient of the honorary life membership of the council and the outgoing president, stop to talk with Leigh Metteer, principal of Hill Junior High School. The luncheon was attended by 118 P-TA members and guests.

A FAIR JOB

cessful Sabin polio vaccine drive for Marin.

"WHEN ANYTHING like this comes along I jump at it, Mrs. McCoy says. "You have a chance to learn something new."

MARCELLE GREW UP in San Francisco and attended San Francisco State College to become an English teacher, but when she found that the only jobs open to new teachers were in rural areas she decided to go to business school. Then came a series of temporary jobs in a variety of businesses when she learned something about many fields, including accounting — all of which has been useful in fair management.

MRS. McCOY CAME to Marin in 1945, and while her sons were small busied herself with P-TA, Ross Valley Players and she taught Sunday School at St. John's Church in Ross for 10 years.

Currently she is on the board of the Marin YWCA and the Festival Theater, and is a member of the Western Fairs Assn., serving as secretary of its Northern Area for four years.

TODAY, SHE SAYS, fairs have picked up interest all over, pointing out that the Marin Art and Garden Fair attendance has more than tripled in 10 years.

"People have more time and money, the county has grown and there is an increasing interest on the arts, and in Marin the fair is an art show," she explains.

She believes that Marin's fair is unique because it attracts people of a more sophisticated level and that the fair reflects their interests.

The New York Fair? — a September tour with fair managers, she hopes, and maybe a look at European fairs next year—

"I ALWAYS HAVE to apply myself to something that is a challenge," she says.

Evaluate Child's Need Before Sending Him To Summer Camp

By DAVID NYDICK
UPI Education Specialist

Many parents now are considering summer camps for their children. There are several important considerations before a final decision is made. These involve evaluation of the child's needs as well as what a particular camp program can offer.

Some children can gain a great deal from a camp experience while others would benefit more by spending the summer with their families. The answer involves the child's personality, interests, age, home situation, and neighborhood.

A CHILD WHO loves sports, other children, and is generally self sufficient probably will love camp and gain a great deal from it. A child who dislikes sports and tends to be a loner may find camp distasteful. It is possible that he could benefit from camping but this will depend upon his own attitude. If he would like to try camping, he could learn much if he is given encouragement by the counsellors and attends a camp which emphasizes some activities to match his interests. He may like sleeping outdoors, music, etc.

AGE IS AN important factor. A day camp is more desirable for the younger child ranging in age from 3 or 4 to 7 or 8. A resident or sleep-away camp should not be considered much before age 7 or 8. Of course, this depends on the individual child. Some may be ready at age 5 or 6 while others would not be ready until age 9.

IN A HOME WHERE both parents work, camp can be very helpful. The child will be a part of a well planned program with good supervision. He will have the feeling that he is a part of a group rather than being home alone with little attention because his parents are both tired after work. In such situations it is important that the child understands that he is not being sent away to get rid of him but rather because he is loved and will obtain many benefits. In addition it would be most valuable if some vacation period could be arranged when the entire family could be together.

The general pattern of the neighborhood and the child's friends should be considered. If everyone goes away, the child would be most lonely at home. On the other hand, if everyone stays at home and many facilities and planned activities are available, the child might have a wonderful time at home.

CHOOSING THE RIGHT camp is a necessity. Investigate the many camps which are available. Find out the kinds of activities which they emphasize. Consider the distance and facilities. Relate these things to your child's personality and interests.

Mrs. Arthur F. Bickford, new chairman of the board of trustees of the Tamalpais Nrusery School, has many interests.

She says what she enjoys most are "travel, house remodeling, excursions with my children, working with teenagers, and sewing." She makes all her own and her little daugter's clothes and specializes in appliqued stitchery.

The new chairman was vice chairman last year, the first year of her membersip.

Gail Bickford is especially interested in the new summer program for children not old enough for public school recreational programs.

She is active in the Mill Valley Community Church, where she is an adviser to the Muir League high school group, and is a member of the committee which selects students who travel abroad under the Experiment in International Living.

A native of New York City, Gail was graduated from Wellesley in 1951 with a major in English and received her master's degree in English from the University of Pennsylvania in 1956. Before her marriage to Dr. Arthur F. Bickford, a physician who is doing research at the University of California Medical Center, she taught English to freshmen at the University of Pennsylvania for four years.

She has completed most major requirements for a Ph.D. in English at the University of Pennsylvania and still has to finish her thesis. She is now working on a story of a legal trial which took place in 1860 in a small New Hampshire town, involving a bell stolen from a church.

The Bickfords came to Mill Valley from San Francisco three and a half years ago. They have two children, Geoffrey, 5½, and Alison Hilary, 2.

Serving with Mrs. Bickford will be Mrs. William Spencer, vice chairman, and Mrs. John Hopkins, secretary-treasurer. Other board members are Thomas Lathrop and Mesdames Michael Wornum, Richard Melbostad, J. H. Canepa, David Golay and Robert Dagley. Mrs. Robert Bastian is executive director.

A Trembling Nightmare—Advent Of House Gawkers

By PATRICIA McCORMACK

HOMEFRONT, U.S.A. (UPI)—Every so often you read about what a charitable thing it is for famous people in town to lend their showcase houses for a tour to benefit a good cause.

Women pay money to the good cause and then go off to inspect the houses.

After reading about such a tour the other day, I had a nightmare. My doorbell rang and I found on the stoop a collection of women ready to inspect my house, room for room.

It could only happen in a nightmare. The doorbell hasn't worked for years.

"Comic relief," thought I, as I giggled and agreed to let the women trip through Trembling Timbers, the name of our beloved domicile.

Remembering the modus operandi for treks through a residence, I nervously told the visitors first about my neighbors. In the spirit of charity, I didn't mention any names.

When they stepped into the living room, I shouted at them not to be upset about the sound of the sump pump—a combination of falling water and an air hammer.

"The house has a crawl space instead of a basement and when the thaw's on, it fills with water," I said. "Only the sump pump keeps us from getting like Noah's ark."

I called to their attention the original abstract art on the living room carpet — free form drippings from television dinners.

A question was asked about the crack in the picture window. I told them it's a memento from the time a neighbor's child was acting out something with a football.

In the kitchen I pointed to the primitive canine sculpture on the floor — a few holes chewed in the linoleum when the dog was a pup. Members of the Humane Society were sympathetic.

On the way to the bedroom wing of Trembling Timbers, a woman powered by a lack of self-control, opened the linen closet door in the hall.

Curiosity flattened the cat.

Carefully stashed teddy bears, toy cannons, empty bottles of insecticide and such, and an occasional piece of linen buried her.

Belvedere Only City To Pick Mayor Democratically

Nine San Rafael cities went through reorganization of their city councils last Tuesday night, following municipal elections a week earlier. Eight of the nine got new mayors.

The council reorganizations were to complete a process of democracy in which the voters did their part by turning out in fairish numbers to cast ballots. (A couple of bond issues helped get people to the polls in Corte Madera and Ross, where there were no contests for city offices.)

The councilmen, new and old, didn't carry through their part of the process quite so well. Except in Belvedere.

In Mill Valley, two new councilmen, elected in a campaign that made an issue of secret meetings by the old council, met with two holdover councilmen and one who was re-elected on the Friday following the voting. They decided then who should be mayor and who should get what committee assignment. Everything went off without a hitch at the meeting the next Tuesday, when a capacity crowd showed up at city hall to watch what they thought was the council reorganization.

There was a similar get-together in Fairfax. There, the reorganization meeting did not go quite so smoothly, as Cornelis Van Vliet seated himself in the mayor's chair before the formality of his "election," and read his committee assignments from a sheet prepared in advance.

Following his unanimous selection as mayor in San Anselmo, William Franchini commented that it was really Woodrow Capurro's turn for the mayoralty but Capurro had said he did not want it. Capurro could just as well have said so in open meeting.

In Corte Madera, Councilman Charles F. Pendleton complained at the mayoralty going to Edward W. Colthurst for a fourth time, but went along with a unanimous vote for Colthurst.

There were signs that the "unanimity" in choice of mayors in some of the other cities wasn't quite what it appeared to be, but all differences apparently had been threshed out in advance in back room or private home.

City Mgr. Britton Rey passed around slips of paper. Each council member wrote the name of his choice for mayor on a slip, then deposited it in a ballot box consisting of the top of a drip coffee maker. Newly elected Merritt K. Ruddock got three votes to two for holdover John R. Moore. The process was then repeated for vice mayor, with Mrs. Sally Mathews the winner.

The Belvedere City Council thus carried out a democratic tradition older than the United States: speak out or stand up and be counted on issues; vote by secret ballot on individuals.

Too bad none of the bigger cities' councils could have shown that they, too, realize the democratic process applies to the councilmen as well as to the voters who elect them.

Now's Time To Support Concerts

The Marin Music Chest, conceived more than 30 years ago to bring great music of the world to the greatest number of people at the lowest possible prices, is still going strong.

Continued success of the music chest series is probably due to several factors —the number of residents in the county who appreciate the fine arts, the unique outdoor setting at Forest Meadows, and noble purpose for which the series was founded in 1932.

Part of the proceeds is set aside each year to provide four music scholarships for promising young musicians who are residents of the county.

The annual month-long subscription drive is now underway and will continue through May 6. The first concert is set for June 21, and the time to support it is now.

Those who subscribe to season tickets assure themselves of a summer season of top entertainment, with the added bonus of knowing that their support will be helping talented young Marin artists get started in their musical careers.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Unruh Is Blunt In Saying His School Bill Would Cost Money

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — A primary step in advanced school legislation has been taken by the Legislature with the passage of A. B. 145 by the Assembly. This is the measure submitted by Speaker Jesse M. Unruh (D - Los Angeles) as a substitute for his original measure ordering immediate school district consolidation.

Although the bill has passed the Assembly, 45-23, on a split party vote, observers think it is due for rough sailing in the state Senate. However, many powerful senators are known to be enthusiastic over consolidation of school districts as a means of preventing even greater increases in school taxes.

In presenting his measures to the Assembly, Speaker Unruh minced no words.

"It does mortgage the future," he said. "When it is written into law, we will have to come back and raise taxes or cut the budget."

BUT, ALMOST ANY way the education situation is viewed, more money for schools is going to be needed. The Unruh measure proposes no more than the California Teachers Assn. proposal in a planned initiative, so the ultimate concern to the taxpayer would be no less if the association qualifies and passes its measure.

The Unruh proposal provides for an immediate increase of $10 per average daily attendance as the state allotment to school districts. This would be an increase of about 42 million dollars for the 1964-65 fiscal year.

After this increase, those districts which unify would jump another $15, which during the subsequent fiscal year would bring the bill to 108 million dollars.

UNDER THE measure, some 1575 school districts would be required to unify into about 350 districts if they are to take advantage of the increased allotments the second fiscal year.

Should they fail to unify voluntarily, the job would be turned over to the county committee for re-organization. If the committee failed to do the job, it then would be turned over to the state board of education.

The Unruh bill is the only one of many proposals before the Legislature which has passed first base this session. Other measures have ranged from a constitutional amendment proposal in the Senate to increased district taxes in the Assembly, with Governor Brown's proposed county-wide equalization plan holding some of the spotlight.

Fund Drives Bother You?

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I remember when summer was the polio season.

When a heart attack was almost always fatal.

When a baby born with a club foot or cleft palate was deformed for life.

I remember a neighbor eaten by cancer—bit by bit —year by year — until half his face was gone. Now this type of cancer is cured 90 per cent of the time.

I remember when we were never bothered by house-to-house collectors for public health fund drives.

Gratitude For Backing Swimmers

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The officers, board of directors and members of the Marin Pirates swim team wish to thank you and your associates at the Independent-Journal for your sponsorship of the Marin Swimming Championships and your generous and pleasant participation at all times and in all phases of the event.

We are aware of the substantial expense and tremendous value involved in your sponsorship, and are particularly appreciative of the high quality and accuracy of your editorial and promotional coverage of the event.

You know of the outstanding success of the meet. However, those of us who have attended hundreds of swimming meets for years across the United States can report that this one was just about the best, and this opinion was expressed many times to us by swimmers, coaches and parents from all over the state during the two-day meet. Top AAU officials from the Pacific Association were equally impressed and complimentary.

You can be proud of the stimulus you and your other co-sponsor, Schultz Enterprises, Inc., have provided for this excellent sport and for the Marin youth. I am sure I speak for the Ann Curtis Swim Club, the Tamalpais Swim Club and the San Rafael Swim Club, our sister AAU organizations in Marin, when I say the Independent-Journal has been a great help to swimming at all times through its fine sports page coverage.

We feel your activity in this meet represents a contribution to the community of the highest kind, and that your eagerness to aid in this event is representative of the policies and spirit that have made the Independent-Journal truly outstanding.

We hope you will find it possible to use this letter in your letters-to-the-editor department, in order to help inform the citizens of Marin of your fine support.

Buses Asked For Hospital

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Your recent article giving the special Greyhound service for buses going to Candlestick Park for Giant baseball games (actually a free advertisement, I suppose) represented an interesting commentary on the relative importance of the community needs as interpreted by the Greyhound company. In the light of their recent action in which they refused to provide bus service to the Marin General Hospital and adjacent areas in Greenbrae, they have placed our community needs in an unbelievable priority order. This is particularly true in view of the fact that many people visiting or working at the hospital must travel at inconvenient hours. In addition, their action has denied to many of our county residents access to their medical doctors located in the medical building near Marin General Hospital.

Since the Greyhound Bus Lines has the franchise for Marin County, it is obvious that they have no intention of fulfilling the obligation that this right entails, namely the provision of service where needed. At a time when civil rights and aid for the elderly are in sharp focus, such short-sighted action is inexcusable.

Why Must Firms Aid Parking Lots?

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Why is it the obligation of private property owners and business establishments that already provide their own parking facilities to contribute to the downtown parking lots?

It would seem to me to be much more equitable for the business that does not now have parking space for its customers to put in parking space.

Entirely too much valuable land that should be on the tax roll is now used to park a few cars. If Macy's and others can do it so can the rest who now get this service furnished for them.

I have resented this for so long that I have formed a habit of not trading with any store which does not have parking facilities and go to Corte Madera or elsewhere. I am sure the Emporium will have plenty of parking space that won't add to my tax burden.

Look Out! Girl, 11, Interested In Sports

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I would like to have more attention and action for the girls in Marin County. Boys are in baseball games, football games, etc. I think girls should participate more in recreational activities. There are very few sports they can participate in.

Because men are stronger, they think they are king of sports. Girls don't have enough attention toward themselves in sports. I think girls would like to have a chance in sports, to win trophies and enormous ribbons, and something to brag about. So boys think we're good for nothing in sports? Well, we'll have to show them who's king of sports.

A PERT LITTLE blonde nitwit had been the constant companion of an elderly tycoon for three long, long years, and when he finally gave up the ghost, she came to the reading of his will in a very hopeful mood. Then the blow fell. The lawyer pinned her with a very disapproving look and told her, "Miss Van de Vere, I must tell you that my client seems to have left his money to Mt. Sinai Hospital and his brain to you."

GROUCHO MARX WAS introduced to one of Spain's greatest matadors at a Hollywood garden party. "How many bulls do you figure you have met in your career?" asked Groucho. "Probably a thousand," estimated the matador. Enthused Groucho, "You must be the envy of every cow in Spain!"

A SALESMAN IN a swank leather goods store suggested to a male customer, "Can I interest you in a beautifully embossed letter opener?" You cannot," responded the customer firmly, "I'm married to one."

Is Peace Coming In Our Generation As Johnson Said At New York Fair?

WASHINGTON—President Lyndon B. Johnson has made a bold and heartwarming prediction.

"I prophesy peace is not only possible in our generation," he said in opening the World's Fair, "I predict it is coming much earlier."

There is a solid basis for this prediction. There is substance in it, but I would put it a little differently.

It seems to me that in light of events now in motion, the opportunity to achieve a far more peaceful world than at any time since the end of World War II is within our reach—and can be grasped.

WHAT, THEN, gives substance to the president's prophecy of "peace in our generation"? I believe these are the developments he had in mind:

1 — The missile confrontation in Cuba struck from the hands of the Kremlin the instrument of nuclear blackmail.

2 — The deep and divisive split between Peking and Moscow is causing the Soviet Union to realize that it can not simultaneously conduct a cold war against the West and Red China.

3 — The deterrent military strength of the West is so great that the Soviet leaders simply cannot gamble their great industrial progress on any military adventurism, whether to help Red China against India or Formosa or to drive the allies out of West Berlin.

THESE ARE the reasons Russia accepted the nuclear test ban after scorning it for years. These are the reasons Moscow is inching slowly forward along the edges of a detente with the United States, exchanging consulates, returning fliers, calling President Johnson a "reasonable man." These are the reasons Nikita Khrushchev has been loosening some of the shackles on the Eastern European satellites.

It is evidently Johnson's judgment that this trend is going to continue. It may well continue. But there is no real peace in the offing until three things happen:

Until the Soviet Union is willing to accept sufficient inspection to permit some solid disarmament.

Until the Kremlin allows the peoples of Eastern Europe, including East Germany, to hold free elections as it promised in the Yalta agreements.

Until the Soviet leaders are prepared to use their power and their influence against the sending of men and arms across the frontiers to foment "wars of liberation."

AS LONG AS one door is being pried open by Communist aggression into the free world, there can be no secure peace. That door is the export of communism by force across frontiers as Ho Chi Minh is doing in South Vietnam, as Castro is doing in Venezuela.

If the Soviet leaders, as they now say, really believe that the Chinese Communists are a "war-mongering peril to the whole world," they will need to prove it by doing something about it before "peace in our generation" can be deemed much nearer.

I believe that the opportunities to attain a real peace are attainable if we reach for them—and do not back away.

More Accords With Soviet In Works

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Those U. S. and Russian reductions in fissionable material for nuclear weapons are just the beginning; more and even bigger agreements are in the works.

Some of these potential accords are imminent—barring upsets.

Ambassador Foy Kohler took with him a portfolio of these new proposals when he returned to Moscow from his recent consultations in Washington. And President Lyndon B. Johnson and Ambassador Dobrynin reviewed them in their long White House discussions.

IN IMMEDIATE FUTURE

Opening of additional consulates in the two countries —initiated by President John F. Kennedy, but aborted several times by cold war crises.

Moscow-New York air route —another Kennedy plan that has been on and off for several years.

Sale of upwards of 500 million dollars of surplus farm commodities over a period of three or more years. The Soviet is definitely interested in such purchases despite outward indifference.

Long-term credits for the sale of so-called non-strategic goods. These would include chemical, fertilizer and plastic plants which the Reds urgently desire under the multi-billion-dollar agricultural expansion program proclaimed by Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

LONG RANGE

Formal or informal agreement not to distribute nuclear weapons and materiel to other nations—including Red China and France.

Joint cutback in troops by the U. S. in Europe and the Soviet in the satellites.

TREASURY SECRETARY Dillon was given maximum security protection during his visit to Panama to attend the Inter-American Bank Conference. In addition to a large U. S. security guard, Dillon also was constantly surrounded by a number of Panamanian guards.

WEST GERMAN Chancellor Erhard will make an official visit to India at a still-unfixed date. He was last there in 1958. . . . A new group of 25 Cuban aviation "technicians" has arrived in Russia for three months' training in the handling of Soviet planes which make regular flights to the Red-ruled island.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Cornelia Darrington Brunette Once Wrote Ode To Slice Of Ham

THE OTHER DAY we visited a wonderful woman poet who lives on a hill in Tiburon and who has just written a song, "Explosion Love."

She said she does not use a piano but writes songs out of her head. The love song was "just a poem I sent in," said Cornelia Darrington Brunette, but she has written 10 other songs, words and music.

The Liberace brothers play piano and violin on a record of the song, which Mrs. Brunette played. "Teen-agers like it," she said. Mrs. Brunette, who says she is more than 50, also played her song, "Pink Heaven," which is about Tiburon and has these lyrics: "Overlooking a blue, blue sea, where there's plenty of room for the roses to bloom and each moment will be heavenly."

We looked out of the window and noticed the red roses bobbing like crazy in the wind on a white picket fence.

MRS. BRUNETTE explained she has written poetry since a child, that she has a poem which is to go on a plaque on the San Rafael end of the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge, and that she is a candidate for poet laureate of California. "It's been delayed two years," she said. "I wrote my whole application in poetry to Sacramento. . . ."

She said she can write a poem about anything and has written to television personalities, to Adlai Stevenson (who sent her his autograph), to doctors, cats and to a snake.

She said she is going to Paris this fall to see Raymond Duncan, brother of the late Isadora, who "is a poet and something of a prophet."

"I know him personally," she said. "He makes his own clothes and has his own printing press. He looks just like my mother. No wonder I was attracted to him. He is about 80. Every year he sends me a message. He prints it."

SHE ALSO SAID she believes in extrasensory perception and in World War II wrote a poem, "Premonitions: Wings" about her soldier brother who she believed was in trouble. "He was on the Elbe River when the Russians met the Americans," she said. "When he came home, we checked dates and I found that that night I had the premonition he almost lost his life. His buddy was killed beside him and my brother had his pants blown off."

Mrs. Brunette offered us some cashews and advised her dog, Pepper, part water spaniel, part English setter, was so named because he was born under a pepper tree. She showed us in her scrapbook a picture of Max Baer next to a poem she had written to him and one to Johnnie Ray and his poem. She once wrote "An Ode To A Snake," on request, she said, and won a radio in 1952 for writing a poem, "Ode To A Slice Of Ham."

Mrs. Brunette said she is a Native Daughter of the Golden West and a member of the American Guild of Composers and Artists.

She played "Pink Heaven" on the phonograph, saying it has something of a Stephen Foster mood in it and that, as with most tunes, you have to hear them several times before you really begin to appreciate them. Asked about poetry in today's world, she said, "It's holding its own." We bid Mrs. Brunette goodbye and slid down the windy hill, exhilarated.

CARL SPRING reports that Carl Gabrielson got more votes than a councilman has ever received in the recent Sausalito council election with 1,242. The closest to that was in 1948 when Robert Gunn received 1,224. Highest number of votes received in the city for any position was 1,252 by Zelda Tiffany for city clerk in 1940.

George Hoffman, a backer of Mel Wax in the campaign, said he came up with this slogan—but too late for the campaign—"Seal your vote with wax."

"It is one of the pleasures and aggravations, at times, that you don't serve in a vacuum in Sausalito as you do in some other communities," said Michael Harris, outgoing councilman, last Tuesday. He said generally speaking there are more people in the audience (in Sausalito) than there are in all the council meetings in every other Marin community combined. And generally many of the people are talking at one time.

Judging by the turnout at the planning commission hearing on the waterfront Wednesday, Sausalito is not dropping off to sleep just because the election is past.

College Conducts Health Survey

College of Marin is conducting a mail survey of high school seniors to determine interest in two-year health service programs including registered nursing, according to Irwin P. Diamond, dean of students.

Students have been asked in the survey to indicate their future work and educational plans and to check preferences among a list of programs including registered nursing, medical assistants, dental assistants and vocational nursing.

The results of the survey will be presented to the Marin Junior College District board at its meeting Tuesday at 8 p.m. in Harlan Hall when the costs, facilities and number of students required to start a registered nursing program at the college will be considered.

Writer Sighs For Day When Pilot Only Flew The Airliner—Silently

AT 35,000 FEET—The airlines have a new public relations gimmick. Just as you get bedded down in your seat for a cross-country flight and start to snooze, a voice comes over the loudspeaker, "This is your captain speaking. We are flying at an altitude of 35,000 feet and on our left is the city of Palm Springs."

You peer out the window and all you see is a mass of clouds.

"Of course, you can't see it so good at the moment," he says, "but it's a wonderful town."

You doze off again to be suddenly awakened by the friendly voice. "We have just passed into Arizona," the pilot says.

You start applauding until the other passengers stare you down.

ALL IS WELL until 15 minutes later when the voice is back again. "We will soon pass over the Grand Canyon, which will appear off our right wing. The weather should be clear."

Several passengers take out their cameras and one of them asks if we wouldn't mind moving so he could get a picture. We move over to the left side of the plane.

"Before arriving over the Grand Canyon," the voice says again, "I would suggest you look out the left side of the plane at the glorious mountain range."

"Now coming up ahead is the Grand Canyon."

The camera-toting passengers reverse themselves and they're back on the right side.

JUST AS everyone is in position, the friendly voice says, "We may be hitting a little turbulence. I would suggest everyone fasten their seat belts."

The passengers reverse themselves again and return to their seats.

"Would you mind taking a picture for me?" one of the passengers asks.

"Did you get it?"

"How the hell do I know?" we say honestly.

Word reaches the pilot that we will soon be passing over Oklahoma City and he just can't keep it to himself.

WHEN THE PILOT isn't informing us about geography, he's telling us what the weather is like in Chicago. He also fills us in on his latest engine change, explaining why the motors will sound different. Then he tells us he's going up 5,000 feet to avoid a rainstorm, and 25 minutes later he informs us they have hurricane warnings over Florida but, since we're not going there, we have nothing to worry about.

For 45 minutes we hear nothing and we start to worry. We call over the stewardess and ask her, "Is there anything wrong with the pilot?"

Before she can go up front to check, he's back again.

"We've just passed over Lima, Ohio," he announces triumphantly.

We breathe a sigh of relief.

We guess it's a good idea to keep everyone informed on how the pilots are flying the plane, but we can't help wishing for the good old days when they were busy up front with the stewardesses and left the passengers alone.

WHERE HISTORY WALLS A LIBRARY— INSIDE AND OUT!

Books in the library of the University of Mexico cover that country's history back to the great Mayan Empires, centuries before Christ.

Outside, its walls are covered by Juan O'Gorman's colorful mosaic (made of more than 7½ million separate stones) depicting the history and culture of Mexico.

The school itself dates back to 1551, but its campus is one of the world's most modern. Built in 1954, it was designed by a team of Mexico's finest architects.

Even in a country known for its architecture, on a campus that is a collective example for the world, the library stands out.

A Fish That Begs To Be Taken Isn't Much Fun In The Game

"A fish that begs to be taken isn't much fun," commented Sandy MacDonald the other day at the California Club in Los Angeles.

The famous fly fisherman had just watched my defense against a doubled contract, so I knew exactly who the fish was.

Opening lead — ♠ K

After a rather feverish auction I opened the king of spades from the West hand. It was the first of three fishy plays. At the second trick I continued my piscatorial path by leading a low spade.

PLAYER RUFFS

Declarer ruffed and led the nine of clubs for a finesse. East won with the ace of clubs and sprouted fins of his own by returning a low spade. The fish were ready for the pan.

South ruffed the spade and led his other club to finesse with dummy's jack.

He cashed the king of clubs, ruffed dummy's last spade and gave up a heart trick.

HANDWRITING ON WALL

By this time the handwriting was on the wall. We took the heart trick and returned a trump, but it was too late.

South won with the ace of trumps, ruffed a heart with dummy's low trump, and ruffed the jack of clubs with the queen of trumps.

Dummy had the king and jack of trumps for the last two tricks. South had managed to win eight trump tricks and two clubs, just enough to make his doubled contract.

OBVIOUS

The correct defense was pretty obvious from the bidding and even more obvious when the dummp appeared. Dummy was short in hearts, and South was clearly short in spades. Declarer would surely adopt some sort of cross-ruff plan, and the defenders should have led trumps at every opportunity.

An opening trump lead would have been fine play. A switch to trumps at the second trick should have been a matter of routine. When I failed twice, my partner could have returned a trump on being given his ace of clubs.

We would have a second chance to lead trumps whenever declarer led hearts. Two rounds of trumps would defeat the contract.

QUESTION

As dealer, you hold:
♠ A 7 6 4
♥ A K J 5
♦ 8 5
♣ A 5 2

What do you say?

Answer: The best opening bid is a matter of style.

Many experts would open with 1 NT, but some would reject this because of the worthless doubleton. Some would open with one heart, abandoning the spades unless partner can respond in spades. A small school of experts prefer to bid a minor suit with such hands, and this will work if partner does not take the minor suit too seriously.

Supervisors To Look At Redistricting Again

The Marin County Board of Supervisors will look again tomorrow at the problem of the change in the boundaries of supervisorial districts.

The question of supervisorial boundaries was raised last week by Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker who asked for appointment of a commission to study the problem and report back in September. He said a decision is needed before a new board takes office Jan. 1.

The board also will decide whether to help pay for an election on whether the people within the North Marin County Water District should be supplied fluoridated water.

Asst. County Counsel Richard V. Godino has suggested the county and the water district share election costs, and County Clerk George Gnoss has asked the board's advice because of the possible costs involved.

A proposal by the Marin Rod and Gun Club for cleaning Papermill Creek with the use of fish and game fine money will be presented to the board. Included in the plan is purchase of land in the Whitehouse Pool area, near Point Reyes Station.

Bids will be opened on extension of North San Pedro Road and several planning decisions are scheduled, include a use permit for a quarry operation by Matich, Garnier and Long near Black Point, an adjustment to allow an early start on the McGraw-Hill book warehouse north of Novato and rezoning of land and the Lucas Valley interchange for planned apartment and commercial development.

The board will consider for a second time the question of stopping septic tank permits for Tamalpais Woods, which would cut off construction in the area until sewers were provided.

The Park and Recreation Commission has asked for a stand on the proposed state bond issues for parks.

Ham Radio Operator Scores High

Greg Greenwood, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Greenwood of 260 Tiburon Bulevard, San Rafael, has been named the highest scoring novice amateur radio operator in the annual sweepstakes competition held throughout the United States and Canada.

The announcement was made today by the American Radio Relay League at Newington, Conn., which sponsored the operating test in which amateur radio stations attempt to communicate with the greatest number of other amateur stations within the 74 league sections.

Since the contest Greg, a San Rafael High School student, has qualified for his general class license and operates under the call of WB6FZH. He is a member of the Marin Amateur Radio Club.

The president of the local organization, Hugh Cassidy of 77 Coleman Drive, San Rafael, won the radiotelephone competition in the San Francisco section for the third consecutive year.

Day School To Run In Summer

For the first time, Marin County Day School in Corte Madera will offer a summer school program.

Grades two through four will study the South Seas and intermediate and advanced groups will be offered music, mathematics, arts and crafts, physical education English and French.

The six-week session will begin June 22. Hours will be from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Decree Frees Mate Of Wife's Bills

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk has ruled a county does not have the authority to attempt to collect from a husband a claim for county hospital services furnished to his wife following the granting of an interlocutory divorce decree to the wife.

The ruling said an interlocutory decree of divorce does not dissolve the marriage or terminate the husband-wife relationship but it does dissolve the obligation of support in the absence of a provision therefor.

Rec Fund Bill

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown has signed into law a bill which will permit school districts to use community recreation funds to pay non-certificated district employees for supervision of playground activities during the lunch hour.

Sausalito Trustees To Hold Closed Meeting

What to do about replacing a broken flagpole at Bayside School will be discussed by Sausalito School District trustees at their 8 o'clock meeting tonight at the district office. The wood pole was broken when a pupil swung on the flag ropes.

Supt. Marcus F. Davis will report on the proposed outdoor education program. Following the regular meeting, the board will go into executive session to discuss the superintendent's contract.

Pros and cons of the initiative to repeal the Rumford Fair Housing law will be discussed at a public meeting of the Novato Young Republicans at the Nave Lanes banquet room, Novato, at 8 p.m. today.

Speakers from the California Realty Board and the Californians for Fair Housing will talk. There also will be a question period.

Marin Postoffice Rules To Change

No money orders will be issued by post offices in Marin on Saturdays after this week under a directive of Postmaster Gen. John A. Gronouski.

Also, each post office on Saturday will have only one window open, and all post offices will curtail parcel post deliveries one day each week beginning next Monday.

Each post office will suspend the parcel post deliveries on the lightest day of the week, except on motorized routes.

In San Rafael, Postmaster Warren H. Williams was still surveying parcel post volume before announcing the non-delivery day.

Corte Madera post office will suspend parcel deliveries on Thursdays, except on its one motor route, said Postmaster Edward Victor. Larkspur will suspend service to residential areas on Fridays and to business offices on Saturdays, except for its one motor route, said Postmaster Llewellan Crandall.

Fairfax Postmaster Edward Fusseli was to work out his program on returning from leave today.

Mill Valley is unusual in that 12 of its 19 routes are motorized and will continue the deliveries six days a week, reported Postmaster Jack Little. Parcel deliveries on the remaining routes will be suspended on Wednesdays, affecting business offices and only those houses in the flat areas.

Belvedere-Tiburon will suspend parcel service on its two foot routes and one auxiliary route on Thursdays while continuing them on its five motor routes, said Postmaster Stella A. Ehrenfelt.

The suspension does not affect Ross, where all persons receiving mail are postoffice boxholders, said Postmaster John Malarin. Also, he said, "We can't close down all but one window on Saturdays because we have nothing to close. We have all open counters. However, we've been on half-staff for some time on Saturdays."

Novato will suspend its parcel post deliveries on Thursdays except its two motor routes, said Postmaster Harry M. Overly. Next Monday the post officer will begin closing at 5 p.m. instead of at 5:30 p.m. as it had been for the past several years.

Sausalito will suspend deliveries on Wednesdays on all but its one motor route and its star route to Point Reyes Station, said acting Postmaster William McDonald.
